Classroom Expectations: The teacher expects students will...

1. contribute fully in individual and group work;
2. speak English only in the classroom;
3. be prepared for class by completing all homework assignments;
4. combine knowledge of grammar which is appropriate at this level;
5. be respectful to the teacher and to other students. If you are being disrespectful, talking, or refusing to participate in assignments, you will be asked to leave the class and will be marked absent for that day.

Attendance Policy: “A student who fails to attend the first meeting of a class MAY be dropped by the instructor immediately following the class. Regular attendance in all classes is expected of all students enrolled. A student may be excluded from further attendance in a class during any semester when absences after the close of registration have exceeded the number of class hours which the class meets per week. A student who is tardy three times may be considered as having been absent once.”

Absence: If you are absent, it is your responsibility to make sure that you get the homework assignment and complete it before the next class session. If you are going to be absent before a test, please make sure that you let the instructor know in advance so that arrangements can be made. You will not be allowed to make up tests or quizzes if you do not notify the teacher before class. In-class work cannot be made up. You are responsible for understanding what was done in class when you are gone.

Homework: You will be expected to do homework on a regular basis. Remember: homework is not a punishment! It is a way to help reinforce what it is that you are learning in class. If you don't do your homework, you are not only hurting your grade, you are hurting yourself.

On-Line Work/Grades: All students have access to Blackboard (www.imperial.blackboard.edu). Extra information is often posted there. Your grades are also posted on Blackboard. It is your responsibility to make sure that you access Blackboard ESPECIALLY when there are extra assignments.

E-mail Address: Each student will need to have an e-mail address. This is important for online work. In addition, if for some reason the campus must closed due to health or other issues (such as the Swine Flu), your instructor must be able to contact you as you will still be responsible for class work.

Remember that it is YOUR responsibility to have a working e-mail address and to check it on a regular basis.

Late Assignments: It is your responsibility to make sure that your work is completed and turned in when it is due. Therefore, no late assignments will be accepted with prior arrangements with the instructor.

Academic Misconduct Policy Academic misconduct includes misconduct associated with the classroom, laboratory or clinical learning process. Some examples of academic misconduct are cheating and plagiarism.

Cheating includes, but is not limited to, (a) use of any unauthorized assistance in taking quizzes, tests, assessment tests or examinations; (b) dependence upon the aid of sources beyond those authorized by the faculty member in writing papers, preparing reports, solving problems, or carrying out other assignments; or (c) the acquisition, without permission, of tests or other academic material belonging to a member of the college faculty or staff.

Plagiarism includes, but is not limited to, the use of paraphrased or directly quoted published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment. It also includes the unacknowledged use of materials prepared by another person or agency engaged in the selling of term papers or other academic materials. Information gathered from the internet and not properly identified is also considered plagiarism.

Any student found by a faculty member to have committed academic misconduct may be subject to sanctions as determined by the faculty member. Sanctions MAY include a warning, grade adjustment, and course failure. Consequences for plagiarism include a zero on the assignment and a referral to Sergio Lopez, Dean of Student Development and Campus Events.

The College is concerned with the fostering of knowledge, the search for truth and the dissemination of ideas. Students shall assume an obligation to conduct themselves in a manner compatible with the college's function as an educational institution.

An instructor MAY REMOVE a student for the day of removal and the next class meeting. Such action must be immediately reported to Sergio Lopez, Dean of Student Development and Campus Events. During the period of removal the student MAY NOT return without the consent of the instructor.”
