David Myers' Psychology in Everyday Life, Third Edition.

Course Description:

This course will provide the student with a basic understanding of psychology. Theories and research relating to emotions and stress, abnormal behavior, motivation, learning, personality, methods of therapy, biology and behaviors, developmental psychology, and social psychology will be discussed.

Course Objective:

The objective of this course is to critically think about and gain knowledge of the major theories and concepts of psychology.

Course Format:

This course will consist of a combination of lectures, class discussion, assigned readings, videos, performance on exams and possible group and individual projects.

Course Requirements:

Attendance and Class Participation:

You are expected to attend class and stay for the entire period. You will be expected to demonstrate an understanding of the assigned reading by actively participating in class discussions. If you miss a class, it is your responsibility to get class notes from a fellow student. If you are going to miss a class, please call me before class to let me know. The drop date for the summer session is July 21, 2015. If you want to drop the class, it is your responsibility to do so, don't expect me to drop you.

Thought Papers:

There are two thought papers due during the summer session. These papers are a chance for you to give your opinions, viewpoints and personal experiences pertaining to what you learn in this Intro Psychology class. Possible ideas for papers can come from a newspaper, magazine, psychology journal, or the internet. You can even write on a topic of your choice from the book. Each thought paper will be 1-2 pages typed and will be worth up to 25 points. No late thought papers will be accepted.

Exams:

5 exams will be given. Exams may consist of multiple choice; fill in the blank, short answer and essay questions from the textbook, lectures and videos. No make-up exams will be given unless you have called me PRIOR to the exam and let me know you will not be able to take the exam. If you contact me prior to the exam, you will have one week to make-up the exam. Each exam will be worth 50 points. Please bring a scantron and a #2 pencil to each examination.

Student Learning Outcomes:

SLO # 1 Student will identify and demonstrate understanding of the function of the neuron and lobes of the brain (ILO1, ILO2, and ILO3)

SLO # 2 Students will identify and demonstrate understanding of the different parenting styles and their effect on human development. (ILO1, ILO2, ILO3)

SLO # 3 Students will identify and demonstrate understanding the major psychological disorders, key symptoms, and the main strategies used for treatment. (ILO1, ILO2, ILO3, ILO5)
