This course provides practice with a wide range of mathematical procedures used in various business applications. Students use a combination of estimation, ten-key calculators, and computers. Topics include a review of basic math skills, banking, invoices, markup and markdown, discounts, interest, promissory notes, and credit.

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon course completion, the successful student will have acquired new skills, knowledge, and or attitudes as demonstrated by being able to (1) set up and solve business-related problems using equations to solve for an unknown quantity, (2) calculate the parts of an invoice, including discounts and a series of discounts, and (3) calculate markups and markdowns. (ILO2, ILO4)

Course Objectives

Upon satisfactory completion of the course, students will be able to: (1) add, subtract, multiply, and divide whole numbers, (2) add, subtract, multiply and divide fractions and convert fractions to decimals, (3) add, subtract, multiply, and divide decimals and convert decimals to fractions, (4) prepare a bank reconciliation and understand the difference between blank, restrictive, and full endorsements, (5) set up and solve business-related problems using equations to solve for an unknown quantity, (6) solve percentage problems involving portion, rate, and base and find the percent increase or decrease, (7) calculate the parts of an invoice, including single discounts and a series of discounts, (8) calculate markups and markdowns and calculate prices when markups and markdowns are known, (9) calculate simple interest for loans, (10) calculate finance charges and new balance of business lines of credit, (11) use estimation to evaluate the reasonableness of an answer, and (12) use a ten-key calculator, (13) use a computer spreadsheet to perform business calculations.

Textbooks & Other Resources or Links

Brechner, Robert. Contemporary Mathematics for Business and Consumers, Cengage, brief edition, 7th edition. Also, bring pencils and an eraser to each class session. A ruler is helpful but not required. Complete all work in pencil. (ISBN: 1285448596)

Course Requirements and Instructional Methods

This course will review basic math concepts and apply those concepts to common business math problems with an emphasis on critical thinking. Along the way you will learn how to use a 10-key calculator and a computer spreadsheet.

Exams: A portion of each exam will test your knowledge of basic math mechanics. Another portion of each exam will test critical thinking skills. Most of each exam will include new material covered since the last exam. A portion will be comprehensive. Exams are completed in class without make-ups. (I suggest you put the dates on your calendar now.)

Homework: It is imperative that you keep up with assignments because the material will build throughout the semester. I will collect all assignments, and no late work is accepted. To earn points on the homework, you must show all your work.

Out of Class Assignments: The Department of Education policy states that one (1) credit hour is the amount of student work that reasonably approximates not less than one hour of class time and two (2) hours of out-of-class time per week over the span of a semester. WASC has adopted a similar requirement.

Course Grading Based on Course Objectives

Grade	Points
A	900-1000
B	800-899
C	700-799
D	600-699
F	0-599

Grades are posted regularly on Canvas. You may earn up to 1,000 points, as follows:

Points possible	Assignment/Assessment	Details
300	Homework	25 points each X 12 assignments
700	Exams	175 points each X 4 exams

Attendance

- A student who fails to attend the first meeting of a class or does not complete the first mandatory activity of an online class will be dropped by the instructor as of the first official meeting of that class. Should readmission be desired, the student's status will be the same as that of any other student who desires to add a class. It is the student's responsibility to drop or officially withdraw from the class. See General Catalog for details.
- Regular attendance in all classes is expected of all students. A student whose continuous, unexcused absences exceed the number of hours the class is scheduled to meet per week may be dropped. For online courses, students who fail to complete required activities for two consecutive weeks may be considered to have excessive absences and may be dropped.

- Absences attributed to the representation of the college at officially approved events (conferences, contests, and field trips) will be counted as ‘excused’ absences.

Classroom Etiquette

- Electronic Devices: Cell phones and electronic devices must be turned off and put away during class, unless otherwise directed by the instructor.
- Food and Drink are prohibited in all classrooms. Water bottles with lids/caps are the only exception. Additional restrictions will apply in labs. Please comply as directed by the instructor.
- Disruptive Students: Students who disrupt or interfere with a class may be sent out of the room and told to meet with the Campus Disciplinary Officer before returning to continue with coursework. Disciplinary procedures will be followed as outlined in the General Catalog.
- Children in the classroom: Due to college rules and state laws, no one who is not enrolled in the class may attend, including children.

Online Netiquette

- What is netiquette? Netiquette is internet manners, online etiquette, and digital etiquette all rolled into one word. Basically, netiquette is a set of rules for behaving properly online.
- Students are to comply with the following rules of netiquette:

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty in the advancement of knowledge requires that all students and instructors respect the integrity of one another’s work and recognize the important of acknowledging and safeguarding intellectual property.

There are many different forms of academic dishonesty. The following kinds of honesty violations and their definitions are not meant to be exhaustive. Rather, they are intended to serve as examples of unacceptable academic conduct.

- Plagiarism is taking and presenting as one’s own the writings or ideas of others, without citing the source. You should understand the concept of plagiarism and keep it in mind when taking exams and preparing written materials. If you do not understand how to “cite a source” correctly, you must ask for help.

- Cheating is defined as fraud, deceit, or dishonesty in an academic assignment, or using or attempting to use materials, or assisting others in using materials that are prohibited or inappropriate in the context of the academic assignment in question.

Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment, and the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct. Acts of cheating include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) plagiarism; (b) copying or attempting to copy from others during an examination or on an assignment; (c) communicating test information with another person during an examination; (d) allowing others to do an assignment or portion of an assignment; (e) using a commercial term paper service.
