Here are the tasks you will be asked to complete.

- ✓ Midterm & Final Exam (30%)
- ✓ Immigration Case Study (20%)
- ✓ Position Paper (20%)
- ✓ Active Learning Assignments (25%)
- ✓ Reading Quizzes (5%)

Course Description

Welcome to our course! We will begin our journey by discussing the origin, development and operation of local, state, and national political institutions in the United States, emphasizing the contemporary operations of the American political system. As we continue on in our journey, you will learn more about the foundation of the American regime & the ideas, interests & circumstances that helped shape it. You will also learn to analyze political behavior & the formal structures & institutions that make up the American political system. Perhaps more excitingly, we will engage some of today's most pressing issues: immigration, guns, and the rise of social media in politics. My hope is that by the time you have finished this course, you have an improved understanding of American politics, a more developed political voice, & an increased interest in civic engagement!

Midterm & Final (30%)

You will be given a midterm & final in this course. Each exam may consist of multiple choice, fill in the blank, key term, short answer, quote/clause identification & essay questions. That being said, you should expect exams that ask you to do more than simply memorize content. The final exam will not be cumulative!

Immigration Federalism Case Study (20%)

Immigration has become a hot topic in American politics, but it also helps illustrate our system of federalism. With this in mind, you will be given the chance to create a comparative case study on how states have approached immigration related issues in recent years. A detailed prompt will be made available soon.

Position Paper (20%)

You will also have the opportunity to write a 2-page position paper on a topic in American politics. One of the goals of this class is to help improve your writing skills & research abilities, so I will take an active role in assisting you through this process. A detailed paper prompt will be made available after the midterm.

Active Learning Assignments (ALAs) (25%)

Each week there will be an active learning component, which asks you to be in class, engage the material, and be an active participant in your own education. At times you will be asked to work in groups, with a partner or complete a task alone. The goal here is put you at the center of your educational experience. All ALAs must be submitted in class. With excused absences, you will be allowed to makeup 1-2 at the end of the semester.

Reading Quizzes (5%)

Students are required to complete weekly chapter quizzes via Canvas. The quizzes directly relate to the chapter content and will help you prepare for the course exams, written assignments & discussions. With the exception of the week #1 and during midterms/finals, you will have until Sunday at midnight to complete each quiz.

Department of Political Science

Political Science, or Government, is the study of the acquisition and use of public power and authority.

Politics and government affect everyone's life and impinge on activities in many fields. The introductory courses are for the student interested in learning about American Government and different political cultures in the world.

Student Learning Objectives (SLOs)

- 1 Use critical thinking skills to develop an understanding of the international community
- 2 Develop an appreciation and understanding of the American political system from historical, political, economic, and social perspectives.
- 3 Students Develop an understanding of the world's major political ideologies to include liberalism, socialism, communism, and conservatism

Introduction to American Government Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs)

The following learning outcomes represent the measures I will use to ensure that you are learning the things you should learn in this course ☺

Upon course completion, the successful student will have acquired new skills, knowledge, and or attitudes as demonstrated by being able to:

1. Develop an understanding of civic responsibility.
2. Participate in activities that promote the public good (e.g., the voting process, jury duty, community service).
3. Examine the election and voting process.

Motivated by music focused on society's injustices, inequities and the promise of civic action, the study of our political system has consumed by life since a young age. Although my research is located at the intersection of political theory and international relations, my activism is much more local. Currently, I am a board member of Zero Waste San Diego, a NGO focused on reducing waste and promoting sustainable alternatives. Likewise, I encourage students to take an active role in their local communities & help seek out leadership opportunities to develop as citizens and as individuals. My pedagogy is decidedly pragmatic and student-centric, so my courses seek to prepare students not only for making a smooth & successful transition to their desired universities, but to prepare them for the real world as well. Beyond my academic life, I am a proud father who enjoys being outside & exploring the beautiful environment that southern California has to offer.

Attendance

A student who fails to attend the first meeting of a class or does not complete the first mandatory activity of an online class will be dropped by the instructor as of the first official meeting of that class. Should readmission be desired, the student's status will be the same as that of any other student who desires to add a class. It is the student's responsibility to drop or officially withdraw from the class. See General Catalog for details. Regular attendance in all classes is expected of all students. A student whose continuous, unexcused absences exceed the number of hours the class is scheduled to meet per week may be dropped. Absences attributed to the representation of the college at officially approved events (conferences, contests, and field trips) will be counted as 'excused' absences

Electronic Devices, Class Conduct & Participation

Cell phones must be silenced & put away! If I see your phone out or in use, I will ask you to leave. You may use a laptop to take notes & work on assignments. However, it should not be used for anything else during class. Students violating this policy during a class period will receive one warning, after which, they will be asked to leave the class, and there will be a full letter grade deduction from their FINAL GRADE.

Student Conduct

All students are responsible for maintaining appropriate conduct while enrolled in classes Pasadena City College (PCC). Guidelines for student conduct are set forth in the PCC "Student Behavior Policies." Detailed information regarding student discipline & rights within this policy is available in the college catalog & student handbook. Students who violate the Student Behavior Policies are subject to disciplinary action, which includes, but is not limited to, removal from class, suspension & expulsion.

“Inequality is everywhere at the bottom of faction, for in general faction arises from men’s striving for what is equal.”
–Aristotle

“We are not makers of history. We are made by history.”
–Martin Luther King Jr.

“Half of politics is ‘image-making,’ the other half is the art of making people believe the image.”
–Hannah Arendt

Discussion of Scores on Assignments & Tests

To protect the privacy of student grades, I will NOT discuss scores of assignments, papers or exams over the phone or email. Scores of all assignments, papers & exams will be posted on Canvas. If you wish to discuss your grade, please visit me during office hours. My door is always open!

Grade Challenges

All requests to re-grade an assessment MUST be made within one week of the assessment being graded. Explain why points taken off were a mistake & provide evidence justifying the awarding of additional points.

Copyright

My lectures & course materials, including power point presentations, tests, outlines & similar materials, are protected by copyright. You may take notes & make copies of course materials for your own use. You may not reproduce or distribute lecture notes & course materials publicly whether or not a fee is charged without my express written consent. Similarly, you own copyright in your original papers & exam essays.

Make-up Exam, Late Paper Policy & Incomplete Policy

Make-up exams or paper extensions will only be granted under extenuating circumstances. Excuses that may prove acceptable include: serious injury & family emergencies, serious accident, or the observance of a religious holiday. In order to be excused, you will need to bring the original documentation. Additionally, you will need to email me as soon as you know that you are going to be absent & explain why.

Syllabus Disclaimer

Please be advised that this syllabus is “subject to change.” If changes are made, I will make it known to the class. However, it is ultimately your responsibility to make sure you are up-to-date with any changes made.

Academic Dishonesty

Plagiarism is to take and present as one's own the writings or ideas of others, without citing the source. You should understand the concept of plagiarism and keep it in mind when taking exams and preparing written materials. If you do not understand how to correctly 'cite a source', you must ask for help. Cheating is defined as fraud, deceit, or dishonesty in an academic assignment or using or attempting to use materials, or assisting others in using materials, or assisting others in using materials, which are prohibited or inappropriate in the context of the academic assignment in question. Anyone caught cheating or will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment, and the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action. Please refer to the General School Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct. Acts of cheating include, but are not limited to the following: (a) plagiarism; (b) copying or attempting to copy from others during an examination or on an assignment ;(c) communicating test information with another person during an examination; (d) allowing others to do an assignment or portion of an assignment, (e) use of a commercial term paper service

Disabled Student Programs and Services (DSPS)

Any student with a documented disability who may need educational accommodations should notify the instructor or the Disabled Student Programs and Services (DSP&S) office as soon as possible. The DSP&S office is located in Building 2100, telephone 760-355-6313 if you feel you need to be evaluated for educational accommodations.

Student Counseling and Health Services

Students have counseling and health services available, provided by the pre-paid Student Health Fee. We now also have a fulltime mental health counselor. For information see <http://www.imperial.edu/students/student-health-center/>. The IVC Student Health Center is located in the Health Science building in Room 2109, telephone 760-355-6310.

Student Rights and Responsibilities

Students have the right to experience a positive learning environment and due process. For further information regarding student rights and responsibilities please refer to the IVC General Catalog available at http://www.imperial.edu/index.php?option=com_docman&task=doc_download&gid=4516&Itemid=762
