Required Textbook: Social Psychology, 11th Edition, David Myers

Course Description: This course is designed to introduce you to the main concepts, theories and perspectives of social psychology. This course surveys social psychology as both a science and an applied discipline. This course will examine human behavior and thinking in the social world. Topics to be covered include research methods, the self, social cognition, person perception, attitudes, genes, culture & gender, conformity, persuasion, group influence, prejudice, aggression, attraction & intimacy, altruism, and conflict, peacemaking.

Student Learning Outcome (IVC): 1. Demonstrate an understanding of how social thinking (beliefs, judgements and attitudes) develops through interaction in the social world (ILO1); (ILO2); (ILO3); (ILO5), 2. Demonstrate an understanding of social influence on conformity, obedience and persuasion (ILO1); (ILO2); (ILO3); (ILO5), 3. Demonstrate an understanding of how interaction in the social world affects social relationships in regards to prejudice; aggression; and attraction (ILO1);(ILO2); (ILO3); (ILO5), 4. Demonstrate an understanding of how you and your self have developed from interaction in the social world by choosing two theories and describing how those theories apply to your life today (ILO1);(ILO2); (ILO3); (ILO5)

Course Requirements:

Attendance and Class Participation

Attendance is a crucial part of this course. Students are expected to demonstrate their understanding of the assigned readings by actively participating in class discussion. Please schedule all appointments outside of class time. If for some reason you are absent, it is your responsibility to get class notes from a fellow student. Additionally, if you decide not to continue the course, it is your responsibility to drop the course on WEBSTAR by or before the drop date.

Thought Papers (3 @ 25 pts)

There will be a total of three thought papers throughout the semester. This is a 1-2 page paper based on the readings and class material. Thought papers should address an interesting idea regarding a learned behavior from the text and/or class discussion. The idea you choose to write about should be compared to an article, movie, song or television show from your point of view to measure how they correlate. Please do not provide a review of the assigned reading but your own thoughts regarding the topic of choice. The main focus of this assignment is for you to think critically about psychology and to begin exploring your own ideas. You do not have to write what you think I would agree with, you just need to justify your ideas and statements with explanations.

Each paper is worth twenty-five points. All thought papers must be typed, in twelve point font, and double spaced. All papers are due at the beginning of class. No late papers will be accepted nor will they be accepted via e-mail.

Tests (3 @ 50 pts)

There will be a total of three tests given throughout the semester. All tests will be multiple choice and are worth forty-five or fifty points each. Please have a #2 pencil and scantron with you when you come to class. No make-up exams will be given.

A make-up exam will only be allowed with a 48-hour prior notification and/or a documented proof of emergency, jury duty or medical appointment unable to be scheduled at a different time.

In-Class/Homework Assignments (5 @ 15pts)

In class assignments and/or homework will be given for each chapter we cover. Further information will be given as the semester transpires.
