Course Requirements and Instructional Methods

Contact the Professor (20 points). Getting to know you is the best part of my job. I would like to learn a little bit about you. Therefore, your first “assignment” of the semester is to contact me via Canvas. You will have until the end of the third week of the semester to complete this. It is worth 20 points! So, plan accordingly. It should take anywhere from 5 to 10 minutes. I will post the questions you will need to answer about yourself on canvas.

Participation (100 points) Research shows that people learn better when they are actively involved in the learning process. Participation is not just showing up to class.

So, what counts towards participation?

Engaging in in-class activities and lectures. For example, asking questions, answering questions, providing feedback, sharing experiences, and of course paying attention in class. The majority of your points come in the form of in-class activities, news article activities, debates, etc. You should plan to attend all classes in order to receive participation points. There are no make up for in-class activities.

You are starting the semester with a solid “A” in participation. For each late arrival, talking out of turn, excessive absences (more than 3), disturbing the class, etc., that “A” gets eroded. Do not plan to use time in class to read the newspaper, make your grocery lists, plan your weekend, do homework for other classes, write letters, sleep, flirt, text message friends, update your profile, snapchatting, or catch up with friends. Mentally “checking out” of class in this way will make it difficult to do well in the course. In addition, I will find it highly annoying. I will sanction such behavior by taking points off your participation grade. If you have a pressing need to do these things during scheduled class time, do yourself, your classmates and me a favor: do not come to class.

You are expected to read before coming to class. In order to be an active participant in the classroom, you must come to lecture and section prepared—even if being prepared means simply having questions about what was utterly confusing to you in the readings! I understand that outside responsibilities and the need to "have a life" often get in the way of finishing your reading.

"R-E-S-P-E-C-T, find out what it means to me." Classroom discussion should remain civil. We are here to learn from each other. It is difficult to learn from someone who is yelling at you, rolling her/his eyes, grumbling under his/her breath, ignoring you, interrupting you, or engaging in other dismissive behaviors. I do not expect that any of us will be tempted to behave so rudely but it doesn't hurt to spell out that these things are out-of-bounds in the classroom.

I am here to help you. If you have outside responsibilities or other potential barriers to completing the work for this course, please come talk to me as soon as possible. Do not wait until it is too late to get help.

QUIZZES 5 (20 points each): Short scheduled quizzes will ensure that you are on top of your readings and pay attention to class discussion. They will be short and will reward those students who have read and attend class for that day. Quizzes are multiple choices, True/False, short responses. There are no makeups. There are 5 quizzes worth 20 points each for a total of 100 points of your final grades. Scantron and pencil will be required.

Current Events-News Articles Summaries (150): You will be expected to search for news articles (print or online) that discusses the social problem being cover each week of the semester (follow the class calendar). You will read the article thoroughly and write a one-page reflection summary. The summary must be typed and attached to the copy of the article. You will bring your article to class and will work in small groups at least once a week. Make sure that you follow the class calendar to ensure that you come to class ready with your article. If you do not bring an article to class you will not be able to participate in the article summary activity and you will lose participation points. Additional guidance on how to write your summaries will be provided during class.

Social Problem Research Project (80): During the semester, we will be learning about the many social problems affecting the world and our nation. For this project you will have a chance to conduct research in order to learn more about a social problem affecting our community (e.g. homelessness, unemployment, air pollution, high rate of asthma, crime, etc) This will allow you to not only practice your research skills but will also help you engage with your community. I will be posting a list on some of the social problems affecting our community via Canvas.

Agency Interview (50): In addition to your research paper you will also have the chance to learn about the services available in our community. You and a partner will be able to work together for this assignment. It will basically consist of identifying an agency in your community that is currently working to alleviate some of the consequences of the social problem you are learning about. Do not worry, I will provide a guide with the steps you need to take for this assignment.

Note: Each student's capacity to read, write, and take notes at a college level is assumed. In addition, your written work will be graded not only for mastery of course materials, but for clarity, structure, and presentation (e.g., syntax, style and precision of expression, spelling, punctuation, etc.). The Writing Center has been established especially to assist students with writing projects. Contact them early for help with your assignment.

Out of Class Assignments: The Department of Education policy states that one (1) credit hour is the amount of student work that reasonably approximates not less than one hour of class time and two (2) hours of out-of-class time per week over the span of a semester. WASC has adopted a similar requirement.

Attendance

- A student who fails to attend the first meeting of a class or does not complete the first mandatory activity of an online class will be dropped by the instructor as of the first official meeting of that class. Should readmission be desired, the student's status will be the same as that of any other student who desires to add a class. It is the student's responsibility to drop or officially withdraw from the class. See General Catalog for details.
- Regular attendance in all classes is expected of all students. A student whose continuous, unexcused absence exceed the number of hours the class is scheduled to meet per week may be dropped. For online courses, students who fail to complete required activities for two consecutive weeks may be considered to have excessive absences and may be dropped.
- Absences attributed to the representation of the college at officially approved events (conferences, contests, and field trips) will be counted as 'excused' absences.

Classroom Etiquette

- Electronic Devices: Cell phones and electronic devices must be turned off and put away during class, unless otherwise directed by the instructor.

Online Netiquette

- What is netiquette? Netiquette is internet manners, online etiquette, and digital etiquette all rolled into one word. Basically, netiquette is a set of rules for behaving properly online.
- Students are to comply with the following rules of netiquette: (1) identify yourself, (2) include a subject line, (3) avoid sarcasm, (4) respect others' opinions and privacy, (5) acknowledge and return messages promptly, (6) copy with caution, (7) do not spam or junk mail, (8) be concise, (9) use appropriate language, (10) use appropriate emoticons (emotional icons) to help convey meaning, and (11) use appropriate intensifiers to help convey meaning [do not use ALL CAPS or multiple exclamation marks (!!!!)].

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty in the advancement of knowledge requires that all students and instructors respect the integrity of one another's work and recognize the important of acknowledging and safeguarding intellectual property.

There are many different forms of academic dishonesty. The following kinds of honesty violations and their definitions are not meant to be exhaustive. Rather, they are intended to serve as examples of unacceptable academic conduct.

- Plagiarism is taking and presenting as one's own the writings or ideas of others, without citing the source. You should understand the concept of plagiarism and keep it in mind when taking exams and preparing written materials. If you do not understand how to "cite a source" correctly, you must ask for help.
- Cheating is defined as fraud, deceit, or dishonesty in an academic assignment, or using or attempting to use materials, or assisting others in using materials that are prohibited or inappropriate in the context of the academic assignment in question.

Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment, and the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct. Acts of cheating include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) plagiarism; (b) copying or attempting to copy from others during an examination or on an assignment; (c) communicating test information with another person during an examination; (d) allowing others to do an assignment or portion of an assignment; (e) using a commercial term paper service.

Student Equity Program

- The Student Equity Program strives to improve Imperial Valley College's success outcomes, particularly for students who have been historically underrepresented and underserved. The college identifies strategies to monitor and address equity issues, making efforts to mitigate any disproportionate impact on student success and achievement. Our institutional data provides insight surrounding student populations who historically, are not fully represented. Student Equity addresses disparities and/or disproportionate impact in student success across disaggregated student equity groups including gender, ethnicity, disability status, financial need, Veterans, foster youth, homelessness, and formerly incarcerated students. The Student Equity Program provides direct supportive services to empower students experiencing insecurities related to food, housing, transportation, textbooks, and shower access. We recognize that students who struggle meeting their basic needs are also at an academic and economic disadvantage, creating barriers to academic success and wellness. We strive to remove barriers that affect IVC students' access to education, degree and certificate completion, successful completion of developmental math and English courses, and the ability to transfer to a university. Contact: 760.355.5736 or 760.355.5733 Building 100.
