Course Description

French 110 is a second semester course in a four-course series leading to a major or minor in French. It is open to students who have successfully taken French 100 at IVC or the equivalent. Please consult with the instructor in order to verify that the level of the course corresponds to your experience. Translation will not be used. The class will be taught online asynchronously. Office hours will be held online synchronously. (See office hours above.)

Student Learning Outcomes

These are some of the things you will be able to do by the end of the semester.

1. Discuss past experiences using the passé composé and the imparfait.
2. Write about hypothetical situations related to both real and imaginary scenarios.

Course Objectives

To acquire continuing elementary knowledge of French language and French and Francophone cultures.

Textbooks & Other Resources or Links

There is no required textbook.

Recommended: A small paperback French-English bilingual dictionary (new or used) can be purchased at Amazon.com or similar sites. Do not buy a phrase book.

Accent Marks in Microsoft Word

ACCENT AIGU (as in café): Hold down the control-key and type an apostrophe (').

You will see nothing. Then type an e. You will then see é.

ACCENT CIRCUMFLEXE (as in forêt): Hold down the control-key+Shift and type a carat (^), that is, type CTRL+SHIFT+6. Release keys. You will see nothing. Then type the vowel (a, e, i, o or u). You will then see â, ê, î, ô or û.

CÉDILLE (as in français): Hold down control-key and type a comma (,). Release keys. You will see nothing. Then type a c. You will then see ç.

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty in the advancement of knowledge requires that all students and instructors respect the integrity of one another's work and recognize the importance of acknowledging and safeguarding intellectual property.

There are many different forms of academic dishonesty. The following kinds of honesty violations and their definitions are not meant to be exhaustive. Rather, they are intended to serve as examples of unacceptable academic conduct.

- Plagiarism is taking and presenting as one's own, the writings or ideas of others, without citing the source. You should understand the concept of plagiarism and keep it in mind when taking exams and preparing written materials. If you do not understand how to “cite a source” correctly, you must ask for help.

- Cheating is defined as fraud, deceit, or dishonesty in an academic assignment, or using or attempting to use materials, or assisting others in using materials that are prohibited or inappropriate in the context of the academic assignment in question.
- Do not share your work, copy, get help from or do homework with other students or use any online source or software for assignments unless directed by the instructor. All assignments must be 100% your own work.

Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment, and the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct. Acts of cheating include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) plagiarism; (b) helping or copying or attempting to copy from others during an examination or on an assignment; (c) communicating test information with another person during an examination; (d) allowing others to do an assignment or portion of an assignment; (e) using a commercial term paper service; using translation software.

Additional Student Services
