Course Requirements and Instructional Methods

[Required Information: In your ESL 015 class, you will do activities in your book, Ted Talk listening activities I will assign, and online homework. Your homework activities will revolve around vocabulary development, which is necessary for English fluency, critical listening and note taking skills, which are developed through dictations, pronunciation practices, and conversation skills development. You will be assigned activities in your book for homework and are expected to do the activities to review in class if you can attend. You are expected to participate in all group and class discussions, listening activities, dictations, and vocabulary lessons. You will have a unit examination at the end of each unit. The examinations all have listening, vocabulary, and pronunciation sections. You will also need to give presentations. You have the option of recording and submitting your presentations or giving your presentation while you are in our zoom class. All of the above content requires class participation. Your active participation will not only help you become more fluent in English, but it will also ensure a good grade in this class.

Course Grading Based on Course Objectives

Your grade will be based on a point system. You will receive points for unit exams and quizzes, presentations, listening activities, and class participation. If you want to receive a high grade in this class, you must take and pass all exams and quizzes, give presentations, and actively participate in class. You must actively participate. Also, you must pay attention to the class and attempt to speak English in order to receive participation points. Unit exams are forty percent of your grade, presentations and listening activities are thirty percent, and online homework is thirty percent.

Attendance

The below information is the IVC attendance policy.

- A student who fails to attend the first meeting of a class or does not complete the first mandatory activity of an online class will be dropped by the instructor as of the first official meeting of that class. Should readmission be desired, the student's status will be the same as that of any other student who desires to add a class. It is the student's responsibility to drop or officially withdraw from the class. See General Catalog for details.
- This class is asynchronous, so you do not need to attend the Zoom lectures. I will not take attendance for this course.
- Absences attributed to the representation of the college at officially approved events (conferences, contests, and field trips) will be counted as 'excused' absences.

Classroom Etiquette

- When we are listening to recordings or DVD segments, you must be quiet and keep noise in your homes at a minimum.
- When I am teaching, there should be no unnecessary talking or noise from your homes. If you have a question, you may interrupt me to ask one.

Online Netiquette

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty in the advancement of knowledge requires that all students and instructors respect the integrity of one another's work and recognize the important of acknowledging and safeguarding intellectual property.

There are many different forms of academic dishonesty. The following kinds of honesty violations and their definitions are not meant to be exhaustive. Rather, they are intended to serve as examples of unacceptable academic conduct.

- Plagiarism is taking and presenting as one's own the writings or ideas of others, without citing the source. You should understand the concept of plagiarism and keep it in mind when taking exams and preparing written materials. If you do not understand how to "cite a source" correctly, you must ask for help.
- Cheating is defined as fraud, deceit, or dishonesty in an academic assignment, or using or attempting to use materials, or assisting others in using materials that are prohibited or inappropriate in the context of the academic assignment in question.

Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment, and the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct. Acts of cheating include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) plagiarism; (b) copying or attempting to copy from others during an examination or on an assignment; (c) communicating test information with another person during an examination; (d) allowing others to do an assignment or portion of an assignment; (e) using a commercial term paper service.
