Course Description - NOT WRITTEN/EDITED BY THE PROFESSOR IN THIS CLASS

The standard first-year English course. The course seeks to improve the student's ability to understand serious and complex prose and to improve the student's ability to write an exposition that is thoughtful and clear, including the production of a well-documented research paper. Limitation on Enrollment: Course not open to students with a C or higher in English 105. (C-ID: ENGL 100) (CSU/UC)

Course Prerequisite(s) and/or Corequisite(s) - NOT WRITTEN/EDITED BY THE PROFESSOR IN THIS CLASS

Eligibility for English 110 as determined by the college's multiple measures assessment process.

Student Learning Outcomes - NOT WRITTEN/EDITED BY THE PROFESSOR IN THIS CLASS

Upon course completion, the successful student will have acquired new skills, knowledge, and or attitudes as demonstrated by being able to:

1. Compose college-level essays that contain clear thesis statements, effective support, and unified organization.
2. Synthesize information from multiple sources to produce a research paper that is formatted and documented according to MLA guidelines.
3. Demonstrate an ability to comprehend and interpret a variety of college-level texts, including complex arguments and at least one full-length novel, play, or non-fiction book, without relying on outside sources for assistance.

Course Objectives - NOT WRITTEN/EDITED BY THE PROFESSOR IN THIS CLASS

Upon satisfactory completion of the course, students will be able to:

1. Write multiple essays—including one research paper and one final exam—that, together, add up to 6,000 words of formal writing
2. Demonstrate a command of the writing process, which may include pre-writing, drafting, revising, self-editing, peer group editing, and proofreading
3. Compose error-free essays that avoid sentence-level and grammar problems
4. Compose unified essays that include support for the thesis statement, clear development, and effective transitions

5. Demonstrate a command of writing patterns by effectively integrating various rhetorical modes, such as compare/contrast, definition, cause/effect, and argumentation together to produce sophisticated, college-level essays as appropriate
6. Demonstrate an ability to adapt writing strategies to the requirements of the writing situation (e.g. in-class writing, research writing, reflective writing) or to tailor a written assignment to address specific audiences (both general and academic)
7. Demonstrate a thorough understanding of research strategies and library skills (including electronic databases) to identify and evaluate resources for a research paper
8. Synthesize information from multiple sources to produce a research paper that is formatted and documented according to MLA guidelines
9. Demonstrate a command of rules regarding plagiarism and academic ethics
10. Read actively, using metacognitive strategies to monitor comprehension, build vocabulary, and improve analysis of college-level texts
11. Analyze the rhetorical context when reading by identifying genre, medium, purpose, audience and tone
12. Analyze and evaluate the strategies an author uses to make and support a claim, including the use of fallacies
13. Synthesize knowledge by relating texts to personal experience, to past and present events, and to other texts

Textbooks & Other Resources or Links

English 110 is what's known in the field of English as a "rhetoric/composition" or "rhet/comp" course. The basics of reasoning and evidence, with particular emphasis on induction, will be addressed in the Canvas course modules. Some support texts or content for specific assignments may be provided via links embedded in Canvas.

While content I provide in the Canvas course will serve as your textbook on rhetoric and composition, you must acquire one book that will serve as the basis for two essays related to your major research project:

Atwood, Margaret. The Handmaid's Tale. Anchor, 2017.

A failure to read Canvas course content, the required book, or external (linked) sources will lead to misunderstanding and inadequate outcomes on assignments.

Book Buying Tips

Visit the bookstore on campus or try the "Purchase Course Textbooks" link in the Canvas course navigation menu to check IVC bookstore prices and compare them with those of commercial retailers.

To confirm that you have found the correct edition of a book for this or any other class, consult the international standard book number for the particular text you need. That number appears with the publication information just after the title page in a physical copy of a book as well as in listings for books on bookseller websites.

The ISBN for the paperback edition of The Handmaid's Tale is 9780385490818.

Course Requirements and Instructional Methods

All assignments must be written and submitted by the student according to project instructions. Instructions for the preparation of any required or optional revisions will be provided.

Partially completed essays or projects without all required sources will lead to significant point reductions. Late essays may not be accepted. If you have difficulty with a project and wish to request an extension, do so before the deadline for the essay.

Software

Revisions will be prepared using the "track changes" features available in Microsoft Word or Apple Pages. Since Google Docs does not support the exporting of a document with changes marked, you must use Word or Pages to generate essays for this class. Written and video instructions for track changes features will be provided when needed.

An online version of Word is accessible via the Canvas course menu; however, you may have difficulty preserving editing marks with that version of the software. As a student at this institution, you should be eligible to install Microsoft 365 on your personal device at no added cost. To do so, go to Microsoft to confirm your IVC student status and follow the instructions provided.

Course Grading Based on Course Objectives

Grades will be determined on a 100-point scale (with the customary letter divisions: 90-100=A; 80-89=B; and, so on). A student begins the semester with zero points and increases their total with each graded assignment.

Assignment point distribution will be as follows:

- essay 1 - 10 points
- essay 2 - 10 points
- essay 3 - 15 points
- essay 4 - 20 points
- discussions - 10 points
- activities - 10 points
- quizzes - 15 points
- final exam - 10 points

To convert a percentage to a point total, multiply the number possible for that assignment by the grade you earned. For example, if you earn an 85% on a project worth 15 points, multiply to find 85% of 15 ($.85 \times 15 = 12.75$ points).

To convert a point total to a percentage, divide the number by the total possible for the assignment. For example, if you earn a 12.75 out of 15 possible for an assignment, divide 12.75 by 15 ($12.75/15 = .85$ or 85%).

To check your current course grade, divide your overall points earned by the number of points possible for all assignments graded by that date.

Academic Honesty (Artificial Intelligence -AI) - NOT WRITTEN/EDITED BY THE PROFESSOR IN THIS CLASS

IVC values critical thinking and communication skills and considers academic integrity essential to learning. Using AI tools as a replacement for your own thinking, writing, or quantitative reasoning goes against both our mission and academic honesty policy and will be considered academic dishonesty, or plagiarism unless you have been instructed to do so by your instructor. In case of any uncertainty regarding the ethical use of AI tools, students are encouraged to reach out to their instructors for clarification.

Course Policies

Ethics

There are two major concerns in this section. One involves abuse and the other involves cheating.

Discrimination

No student may attempt to use this class or its assignments to advocate discriminatory ideology or implement it as a weapon against other students, the professor, or parties/identities not present/represented.

Recognizable, historically determined bigotry creates a toxic environment in the classroom and impedes and discourages sound, nuanced reason; self-critique; and, reality-based assessment of a subject. There is no "freedom" or "right" to abuse members of an identity group. We will study some attempts to use such propaganda and tie it to claims of "belief" or "culture."

Plagiarism

Depending on type and severity, an instance of plagiarism may be addressed with a reduced or failing grade for the project or through disciplinary action from an administrator. If the latter, no revision will be accepted.

Types of plagiarism include:

- False authorship: False authorship refers to the presenting of someone else's ideas and/or words as your own in an assignment presented for a grade. Common attempts to disguise it include inserting minor word changes and translating from text in another language. Use of a software program to generate essay text or works cited entries can fit into this category as well as unacknowledged collaboration.
- Unacknowledged collaboration: Unacknowledged collaboration refers to instances of excessive influence on or re-writing of your work. The willing participation of another person is irrelevant. Use of a software program to generate essay text or works cited entries can fit into this category as well as false authorship.
- Misrepresentation of source: Misrepresentation refers to the distorting or altering of meaning in a source text in order to promote an assumption. It may be performed through unconscious bias or inadequate reading..
- Insufficient citation: Insufficient citation refers to the appearance of someone else's work with faulty, or no, citation. It may appear due to lack of attention to MLA format.
- Recycling: Recycling refers to the reuse of text prepared by the student for some other purpose without approval or acknowledgement.

IMPERIAL VALLEY COLLEGE

Attendance

According to current school policy, a student may be removed from the roster for consecutive absences in excess of the unit value for that course. In an online course valued at four units, the student is then eligible for removal after two weeks of missed activities. Illness and personal matters count toward the missed days allowed. An instructor has no right to require paperwork or details related to a personal absence. For absences or deadline conflicts due to required attendance at an IVC event, make arrangements in advance with the professor. Personal meetings with IVC staffers/faculty do not apply.

Email

My IVC email is as follows: christina.shaner@imperial.edu

- How to email a professor: Send email through Canvas or from your college email account - not from a personal address. Be sure to include the specific purpose of the message in the subject line. In the message, attempt to communicate with clarity and accuracy in complete sentences. Don't forget to identify yourself and the course.
- Why you shouldn't use a personal email account: Personal email accounts provide no reliable sender information. The name/address itself can diminish the student's credibility and/or imply a kind of immaturity or unprofessionalism. Since the sender could be anyone, no confidential business (including grades and projects) may be discussed.
- How to make emailing quicker and easier: If you want the convenience of official student email fed straight to your smartphone, consider downloading the Microsoft Outlook app so that you may access IVC communications without mixing your personal life and your professional/student life. Alternatively, you may download the Canvas app to email through Canvas as questions occur to you. If you encounter a technological issue with your IVC email account, notify your instructors and work with IT to resolve it.

Other Course Information

If you experience difficulty with Canvas, use your cursor or trackpad to select the floating question mark or the "Help" icon in the account navigation bar (the dark grey bar with white icons on the left side of the Canvas page).

Alternatively, you may navigate directly to the software developer's student guide.
