Course Description

An introduction to music literature with emphasis on listening experience. Students study the expressive materials of music and the major forms of music literature including music of the Middle Ages, Renaissance, Baroque, Classical, and Romantic eras as well as 20th century, Jazz, American music, Rock, and Non-Western music. Emphasis placed on the skills and understanding necessary for lifelong music listening experiences. (C-ID MUS 100) (CSU, UC)

Course Prerequisite(s) and/or Corequisite(s)

No Prerequisite or Corequisite

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Student will learn and use critical listening skills to discuss and critique a musical work. (ILO1, ILO2, ILO4)
2. Student will learn to identify all the instruments in an orchestra by their appearance and their sound. (ILO1, ILO2, ILO4))
3. The student will learn how identify the “form” of a classical or jazz composition through repeated listening. (ILO1, ILO2, ILO4))
4. Student will know the names of the most important Baroque composers and their most significant 2 compositions. (ILO1, ILO2, ILO4)

Course Objectives

Upon satisfactory completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Demonstrate a knowledge of the place of music within human society since prehistory.
- Demonstrate a knowledge of the materials of music (rhythm, melody, harmony, timbre, texture, and smaller forms-motive, phrase, sentence, period, one-part, binary, ternary).
- Demonstrate a knowledge of the larger forms of music (song forms, fugue, rondo, theme and variations, Baroque sonata, sonata-allegro, Classical sonata cycle, concerto, symphony, string quartet, etc.).
- Demonstrate a knowledge of the historical periods of traditional music.
- Develop skills as an active (as opposed to passive) listener appropriate to the study of music.

Course Requirements and Instructional Methods

Academic Expectations:

Full participation in this class is expected. Attendance will be taken at the beginning of each class period. If you arrive late, you must check in with the instructor to be marked present. Attending class on time and participating in class activities is an important part of our collaborative learning experience.

If you miss class for any reason, lecture videos are posted in our virtual classroom, where you may view them and take appropriate notes so that you do not miss the content presented in class. You may make up points by turning in your lecture notes or skeletal outlines for credit on the day you missed a lecture.

Late Work Policy

I expect you to turn your work in on time. It is your responsibility to manage your time properly so that you do not fall behind. Online discussions cannot be turned in late since the discussions are no longer active after the due dates. Found Object presentations must be completed on the days posted in the course schedule. Make-ups will be decided on a case-by-case basis. Midterm and final exams are given in person according to the class schedule. Make-ups will be decided on a case-by-case basis.

Course Grading Based on Course Objectives

Preparation for Class:

You are required to log in to the Canvas virtual classroom, view a short article/page and answer a pre-class quiz to prepare you for our class activities. Each assignment is due before a new unit begins and is relevant to that unit's subject or era. Every student must complete the task whether he or she is present in class. It is necessary for the student to keep abreast of the timeline so that the work is completed on time.

Discussion Boards

Students will be assigned seven discussions throughout the semester to answer questions and creatively critique music and subjects presented in class. Each student is expected to submit a post to his or her assigned group forum and respond to at least two other participating classmates. These discussions are to be held in class with a write-up of the sessions turned into our Canvas LMS site.

InQuizitive Listening Quizzes

The publisher has created some really interesting listening guides in the text and we will be using the "InQuizitive" music listening quizzes that are associated with the listening. There will be one assigned quiz per units 2-7 and they must be completed by the end of the unit as noted on our timeline. To access the quiz for the first time, you will need to log in to the e-book on the digital resource page. I have included a short video in Canvas if you need help. The quiz is worth 50 points total. The quiz will assign your score to you when you have completed the task and will be transferred to the gradebook.

Midterm and Final Exams

Paper exams are given, and students must be prepared and present to take the exams. Final exams will not be given at a different time than scheduled. No make-up for finals is allowed in this course unless previously discussed with the instructor. The midterm exam will cover the first half of the semester, and the final exam will only cover material after the midterm.

Grading

I will grade your work within one week of the due date. If I cannot achieve this, I will send out a message in Canvas or speak about it in class. If you have any questions or concerns about your grade, please check for feedback in the Canvas gradebook and speak with me about it personally.

Grade Requirements:

- Before class prep quizzes 6 x 25 = 150 points
- Attendance and Participation in class = 100 points
- Discussion forums 7 x 50 = 350 points
- InQuizitive 6 x 50 = 300
- Midterm Exam 50 points
- Final Exam 50 points

Total Class points = 1000 points

- Prep Quizzes 15 % of grade
- Attendance and Participation 10% of grade
- Discussions 35% of grade
- InQuizitive 30% of grade
- Midterm and Final 10% of grade

Course Policies

Academic Integrity:

It is expected that a student's work be his or her own. Any student who engages in cheating, including copying another's work, be it a student or an author(plagiarism), will receive a failing grade on the assignment, and could be subject to further disciplinary action. AI cannot be used to compose discussions.

Cell Phone and Laptop Policy:

Cell phones must be turned on "Do not Disturb" mode during lectures and be placed in a secure location away from desks and chairs. Students may use phones for research during discussions or breakout periods in class.

Laptops are permitted in class for note taking, and the student must be seated in the first few rows of class. It is easy to become distracted, so laptop screens must be within view of the instructor to uphold a positive learning environment. Improper use of electronic devices could result in dismissal from class.

Drop Policy

A student who fails to attend the first meeting will be dropped by the instructor as of the first official meeting of that class. Should readmission be desired, the student's status will be the same as that of any other student who desires to add a class. It is the student's responsibility to drop or officially withdraw from the class. See General Catalog for details

Regular attendance in all classes is expected of all students. A student whose continuous, unexcused absences exceed the number of hours the class is scheduled to meet per week may be dropped. For online courses, students who fail to complete required activities for two consecutive weeks may be considered to have excessive absences and may be dropped. Absences attributed to the representation of the college at officially approved events are excused events
