Course Description

This course examines cultural achievements and aesthetic developments, ethical values, intellectual history, and the influence of philosophical orientations of native and Mestizo Spanish-speaking peoples of North America. This includes how Chicanas and Chicanos—and other Latinos—have adapted to the various cultural elements of U.S. society compared to other groups. This course tracks racial formation by studying cultural production, consumption, and contestation. (CSU/UC)

Imperial Valley College is committed to providing an accessible learning experience for all students, regardless of course modality. Every effort has been made to ensure that this course complies with all state and federal accessibility regulations, including Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations. However, if you encounter any content that is not accessible, please contact your instructor or the area dean for assistance. If you have specific accommodations through DSPS, contact them for additional assistance.

We are here to support you and ensure that you have equal access to all course materials.

Communication Policy (Canvas and Pronto)

Students can reach me through our Canvas email system or Pronto messaging. Please do not use a private or IVC student email for communication. I will respond within 24 hours or less, excluding weekends. If a student has not received a reply within that timeframe, please resend the original message and notify me of your attempt.

If a student sends me a Canvas email or Pronto message on a Friday, I will reply on Monday. Additionally, if a student contacts me about an assignment the day before or on the due date, I will respond after the due date. Therefore, it's crucial to communicate with me earlier in the week to ensure timely assistance.

Please understand that our curriculum is rigorous and demanding. Therefore, timely communication will help students complete their assignments. I will provide students with ample feedback to support a stellar grade.

When students Canvas email me (or any IVC professor), it is essential to use proper punctuation, capitalization, spelling, and grammar. In addition, always begin an email with an appropriate salutation (i.e., Dear Dr. Chávez). Professional email etiquette is seldom taught in college, so I understand how sending the first email is stressful. Please read this article for tips to help you write a relevant email and get answers (Quiz 1 will test whether you read the article).

Students are required to regularly check Canvas for weekly announcements, updates, reminders, or changes. Additionally, since grades are posted as they are scored on Canvas, all students will have direct access to their grade book.

IMPERIAL VALLEY COLLEGE

In addition, I will post comments on all graded assignments, so please check Canvas frequently for comments on assignments to improve your grade. You are responsible for reading comments and applying those improvements to your next assignment.

Attendance and Drop/Participation Policy

A. First-Week Attendance & No-Show Drops:

Students who do not log into Canvas or complete the required first-week assignments will be dropped from the course as a “No Show.” To remain enrolled, students must complete all first-week assignments on time. If a student is dropped as a “No Show” and requests re-enrollment, they must follow the same rules and expectations as any other student joining the course. This includes catching up on missed work and adhering to all course policies. It is the student’s responsibility to drop or withdraw from the course officially. Please refer to the IVC General Catalog for withdrawal policies.

B. Ongoing Attendance & Participation Expectations:

After the first week, students must actively participate by completing weekly Discussion Board Activities, Canvas Quizzes, and other assignments designed to assess their understanding of course material. Students should check Canvas daily to stay updated on deadlines and important information. Consistent participation is essential for both in-person and online classes. A student may be dropped due to excessive absences if any of the following occur:

- Failure to access Canvas for two consecutive weeks.
- Failure to complete the required first-week assignments.
- Failure to complete three successive assignments.

If a student experiences challenges affecting participation, they should reach out as soon as possible. I am here to support your success!

C. In-Person & Online Attendance Policy:

Students must attend all scheduled class meetings (in-person or online) and participate in required activities. Students who are absent due to a college event or medical issue must provide proper documentation.

D. In-Person Course Policies:

These policies emphasize the importance of consistent attendance, punctuality, and respectful behavior, ensuring that all students fully engage with course material and classroom discussions. By holding students accountable for their participation, the course maintains a fair learning environment where everyone can succeed without disruptions.

- Students who do not attend class will not receive credit for any assignments due that day.
- Arriving late or leaving early will count as half an absence, and students may not receive credit for assignments due that day.
- Students asked to leave class due to disruptive behavior will be marked absent and will not receive credit for any class assignments.

E. Online Courses:

These policies reinforce the importance of consistent engagement and academic responsibility, ensuring students actively participate in their learning rather than falling behind. By requiring regular completion of assignments and activities, the course maintains rigorous academic standards and helps students stay on track for success.

- Students who fail to complete three consecutive assignments—whether missing, incomplete, or not meeting the required criteria—will be dropped from the course due to lack of participation.

IMPERIAL VALLEY COLLEGE

- Active engagement in all weekly activities, including discussions, quizzes, and assignments, is required to stay enrolled. Regular participation helps ensure students stay on track with course material and meet academic expectations.

E. Excused Absences & Make-Up Work:

Excused absences for officially approved college events recognize the importance of academic and extracurricular participation, ensuring that students are not penalized for representing the institution. However, students who miss class without an excused reason are held accountable, reinforcing the value of consistent attendance and engagement in coursework. While make-up opportunities may be available in some instances, students must take responsibility by communicating with the instructor to discuss their options and stay on track with their academic progress.

F. Policy Compliance with Title 5 Regulations:

My attendance policy follows the California Code of Regulations, Title 5:

- Attendance itself cannot be graded, but course credit is based on the required number of instructional hours.
- Missing excessive class time—in-person or online—means a student has not fulfilled course requirements and may be dropped.

Active participation, preparation, and engagement are critical to your success in this course. Let's work together to make this a productive and rewarding semester!

Late Assignment Policy

Students will always have access to course modules and assignments, so please ensure that assignments are submitted on time. All due dates are posted on our course syllabus and Canvas, so students must check Canvas daily. If any circumstances affect your performance, please let me know in advance so I can make the necessary accommodations. Assignments will only be accepted on time.

Netiquette or Online Etiquette and In-Class Behavior Policy

Netiquette, short for internet etiquette, encompasses proper manners, behaviors, and decorum in the digital realm. It consists of rules for appropriate online conduct that students must adhere to. Please be mindful of the following: avoid sarcasm and use proper language; respect others' opinions and privacy; acknowledge and return messages promptly; do not use ALL CAPS or multiple exclamation marks to communicate with your classmates; most importantly, respect your instructor's attention and instructions to assist you in successfully completing the course.

According to IVC policies, all students must respect their classmates and instructors when communicating. If you need assistance, please get in touch with me. I am here to support you. Violation of this policy will be reported to the Campus Disciplinary Officer for disciplinary action.

Plagiarism (Academic Integrity) Policy

Academic honesty in advancing knowledge requires that all students and instructors respect one another's work's integrity and recognize the importance of acknowledging and safeguarding intellectual property.

There are many different forms of academic dishonesty. The following kinds of honesty violations and their definitions are not meant to be exhaustive. Instead, they are intended to serve as examples of unacceptable academic conduct.

Updated 11/2024

- Plagiarism is taking and presenting as one's own the writings or ideas of others without citing the source. You should understand the concept of plagiarism and keep it in mind when taking exams and preparing written materials. If you do not know how to "cite a source" correctly, you must ask for help.
- Cheating is defined as fraud, deceit, or dishonesty in an academic assignment, using or attempting to use materials, or assisting others in using materials that are prohibited or inappropriate in the context of the academic assignment in question.

Anyone cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment. The instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct. Acts of cheating include but are not limited to, the following: (a) plagiarism; (b) copying or attempting to copy from others during an examination or on an assignment; (c) communicating test information with another person during an examination; (d) allowing others to do an assignment or portion of an assignment; (e) using a commercial term paper service.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Policy

Artificial Intelligence (AI) tools are prohibited. IVC values critical thinking and communication skills and considers academic integrity essential to learning. Using AI tools as a replacement for your own thinking, writing, or quantitative reasoning goes against our mission and academic honesty policy and will be considered academic dishonesty or plagiarism unless you have been instructed to do so by your instructor. In case of any uncertainty regarding the ethical use of AI tools, students are encouraged to contact their instructors for clarification.

AI tools, such as Grammarly or ChatGPT, are strictly prohibited. These tools are not allowed and undermine the integrity of the work. Using unauthorized AI tools in coursework violates IVC's Artificial Intelligence (AI) Policy. This policy prohibits using AI to complete assignments, exams, or any other academic work unless explicitly allowed by the instructor. Violating this policy can lead to academic penalties, including potential disciplinary action.

Every submission that requires students to write will undergo review by our Turnitin program for AI detection. If your submission is identified through AI detection, it will receive a grade of 0 with no opportunity for resubmission.

Turnitin and Similarity Scores

Our Canvas Turnitin program will review every student submission. If a submission receives a similarity score of 25% or higher, it will automatically be given a score of 0. This policy emphasizes the importance of submitting original work and avoiding plagiarism.

All in All: Cheating, Plagiarism, and Artificial Intelligence (AI)

Anyone cheating, plagiarizing, or using AI will receive a zero on the assignment. In addition, the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated cheating may result in an F in the course and disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct.
