Textbooks & Other Resources or Links

There are no required textbooks for this course. The following books are suggested books to read: • Betti, C. and Sale, T 2011. Drawing a Contemporary Approach 6th (Discipline Classic). Cengage Learning ISBN: 978- 1111343606. • Faber, David and Mendelowitz, Daniel M. 2011. A Guide to Drawing 8 (Discipline Classic). Belmont, CA. Wadsworth Publishing ISBN: 13: 978-1111342722. • I also have numerous books in my office for students to read during class times.

Course Requirements and Instructional Methods

Demonstration, discussion, problem solving exercises, still life and life drawing, one and two-point perspective drawing, non-architectural means to create the illusion of depth of space on a 2D surface, written assignments, audio-visual assisted instruction, and individual assistance, will be the instructional methods used in this course. Out of class assignments will include keeping a daily sketchbook/journal with notes and sketches. These used to be checked biweekly and will be considered part of your homework. I can't express the importance of trying to sketch at least a little bit, every day. The work of the students who do carry this through, is usually far superior to those who do not. Over the course, 200-300 gesture drawings can easily be completed. Less, if the sketches are carried out more completely. Although this may seem daunting, once you get in the habit of carrying your sketchbook around, you will see how easy it is to get several gesture drawings in a day. Times you are waiting at the dentist's, doctor's offices, slack time between classes, between shifts at work, etc. can all be times filled with drawing experiences. The sketchbook is a tool artists use to give visual form to their ideas. Work concepts that are only kept "in your head," may quickly disappear if they are not captured in a sketch or series of sketches. Planning a work from a rough draft to a finished piece of art or design, is an important learning goal. The beautiful pieces of art we enjoy seeing in museums, art galleries, homes and places of business, are well thought out, and planned. If you still have pages in your sketchbook from last semester, you may finish that sketchbook. I like to date my sketches, that way you can measure your growth as an artist. A portfolio of completed assignments will be reviewed mid-term and at the end of the course term. Keep all your class work, as your record of progress during the course, and because you do not know what works I will be asking for in your portfolios. Portfolio reviews will be done privately, and by appointment. Reading and writing: you will be required to visit a museum, or art gallery, and write about the experience. Include what was exhibited in detail, your personal response to the work and the show, in general, and a critique of one of the pieces of art. The essay should be 900-1,200 words in length. In addition, you must write a descriptive essay (600-900 words), on a contemporary artwork of your choice, found on a museum website, or in a magazine such as Artforum or Art in America. During a face-to-face class, we will be meeting 6 ½ hours per week. Out of Class Assignments: The Department of Education policy states that one (1) credit hour is the amount of student work that reasonably approximates not less than one hour of class time and two (2) hours of out-of-class time per week over the span of a semester. WASC has adopted a similar requirement.

Keep in mind the last day to drop the course is July 19th. Although I want all of you to complete the course successfully, there are times when dropping the course is the best option. Let's keep in communication, as I am willing to work through any difficulties you may have in completing the course. Yet, please do not assume that I will drop you for lack of attendance. The responsibility for dropping is the students.

Course Policies

Attendance is very important in studio art classes. Since you are now in Drawing II, you will now be doing pieces of art that will be suitable for framing and showing. Therefore, you will be spending more time on each project. In Drawing I, most of our work was more in the form of exercises. A student who fails to attend the first meeting of a class will be dropped by the instructor as of the first official meeting of that class. If you are dropped because you didn't attend the class or didn't contact me with a valid reason as to why student could not attend on opening day, and readmission be desired, the student's status will be the same as that of any other student who is desiring to be admitted to the class.

Academic Honesty: I expect all your artwork, and any essays, to be of your own creation. Famous artists do not copy other people's artwork, so please refrain from doing so. You may use stock photographs for references, but using your own photos is preferable. DO NOT SUBMIT ARTWORK YOU ARE ALSO SUBMITTING, OR HAVE SUBMITTED, TO ANOTHER ART COURSE. I, and the other professors of art at this institution, consider this a form of academic dishonesty. Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment, and the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct.

Other Course Information

I expect all students to be polite to each other. We will have class critiques. Although I do believe iron sharpens iron, and all of us learn from each other, our criticism should be positive and constructive. I also do not allow cursing or offensive language in our classroom, either. If a student infringes on this, they will be asked to leave the class. This removal may be deemed permanent, if student fails to change their behavior.
