Course Requirements and Instructional Methods

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS: Students earn grades by completing learning activities, writing assignments, quizzes, and Discussion Boards. In addition, students will complete weekly reading assignments and bring questions to class to participate in instructions to achieve learning objectives and excel in the course.

COLLABORATIVE LEARNING ACTIVITIES: Students will engage each other to complete group activities designed to develop critical analytical skills further. Because research shows how experiences in social, contextual, and student-owned projects lead to deeper learning, all students will engage each other in collaborative learning that is fun and meaningful.

CULTURAL/HISTORICAL FILM ANALYSIS: Students are required to complete a written film analysis that presents a developed argument or critique of a featured film. Students are required to interpret coded/encoded meanings (themes and values) that represent ethnic Mexican culture, heritage, and history

RESEARCH PAPER: Students are required to write a research paper that identifies and analyzes Chicana/o cultural values and contributions to U.S. society. Students will utilize our library's databases to complete the assignment.

POWERPOINT PRESENTATION: For this assignment, students will create a PowerPoint presentation that effectively summarizes the most significant findings of their research paper to develop skills in summarizing and presenting research findings, as well as enhancing proficiency in using presentation software.

IN-PERSON CULTURAL EXPERIENCE: Each student is required to attend one in-person cultural event/performance/show during this class. Students will then write and submit an essay that applies course concepts to their experience.

MIDTERM EXAM: Students will complete one midterm exam to evaluate how they engage and process information presented in reading assignments, lectures, discussions, and other course material. The exam will have objective (multiple-choice, matching) and subjective (short answer and essay) components.

QUIZZES: Students will complete quizzes throughout the course to help them learn course content and ensure they keep up with required reading assignments. Quizzes include multiple choice, fill-in-the-blanks, true/false, short answers, and/or essay questions.

DISCUSSION BOARD: To facilitate course discussions, students are required to participate in and complete Discussion Board assignments on reading assignments and learning activities. Students will first respond to a prompt and then to two classmates' responses.

Attendance

A student who fails to attend the first meeting of a class or does not complete the first mandatory activity of an online class will be dropped by the instructor as of the first official meeting of that class. Should readmission be desired, the student's status will be the same as that of any other student who desires to add a class. It is the student's responsibility to drop or officially withdraw from the class. See General Catalog for details.

My attendance policy aligns with our California Code of Regulations, Title 5.

Title 5 section 55002.a.2.A states that “attendance is not part of a course subject matter or a discipline specific skill and therefore may not be separately assessed as a part of the course curriculum.” However, Title 5 section 55002.a.2.B. states, “The course grants units of credit based upon a relationship specified by the governing board between the number of units assigned to the course and the number of lecture and/or laboratory hours or performance criteria specified in the course outline.”

Therefore, since college credit units are calculated based on the number of hours students spend in class (3 hours), “students who miss an excessive amount of class time cannot be said to have fulfilled the course requirements and may be dropped from the course.” Suppose a student misses online or in-person weekly activities without a valid reason, and their absences exceed the required limit, the instructor may drop them from the course. Overall, students enrolled in a face-to-face course will be dropped after their fourth unexcused absence; students enrolled in an online course will be dropped if they have four missing or incomplete assignments.

As part of my responsibilities, I keep track of weekly attendance. Should a student miss a face-to-face class without a valid excuse, they will not receive credit for the scheduled class assignments. The student must contact me to discuss if make-up options are available in such cases. Students who arrive late or leave class early will be marked as half an absence and will not receive credit for any scheduled class assignments. If a student is excused from class due to disruptive behavior, they will be marked absent and receive no credit for class assignments.

Class participation and engagement are required, so all students are expected to be prepared for each class meeting or online module and to participate in all activities; therefore, student attention during weekly class time is necessary and critical.

Absences attributed to the representation of the college at officially approved events (conferences, contests, and field trips) will be counted as ‘excused’ absences.

Classroom Etiquette

Each student is required to follow respectful classroom etiquette and must be open-minded and prepared to engage in controversial issues that may challenge their personal beliefs. Material covered in class will cause a personal or emotional effect on students. Therefore, if students are unwilling to commit to using respectful classroom etiquette, they are encouraged to enroll in another class. Please be advised that I will do my best to maintain a positive and constructive classroom environment.

Students are required to be attentive in class and to be respectful of others. Students are also expected to ask thoughtful questions and to be aware of who is (and is not) speaking in class. This awareness will ensure that everyone has a chance to speak and participate. Talking, sleeping, and phone use are not allowed in class. These actions disrupt the learning process and may result in student(s) being marked absent for the day. Also, please be respectful of others in the class by thinking before you speak. If you disagree with someone, draw from course material to criticize or challenge the statement or concept, not the individual. Please contain personal attacks. Because this class is a space where we can ask questions about sensitive/controversial topics, R-E-S-P-E-C-T is critical. Please observe:

- Electronic Devices: Cell phones and electronic devices must be turned off and put away during class, unless otherwise directed by the instructor.
- Food and Drink Prohibited: Water bottles with lids/caps are the only exception. Additional restrictions will apply in labs. Please comply as directed by the instructor.
- Disruptive Students: Students who disrupt or interfere with a class may be sent out of the room and told to meet with the Campus Disciplinary Officer before returning to continue with coursework. Disciplinary procedures will be followed as outlined in the General Catalog.
- Children in the classroom: Due to college rules and state laws, no one who is not enrolled in the class may attend, including children.

Online Netiquette

Netiquette is internet manners, online etiquette, and digital etiquette all rolled into one word. Basically, netiquette is a set of rules for behaving properly online. Students are to comply with the following rules of netiquette: (1) identify yourself, (2) include a subject line, (3) avoid sarcasm, (4) respect others' opinions and privacy, (5) acknowledge and return messages promptly, (6) copy with caution, (7) do not spam or junk mail, (8) be concise, (9) use appropriate language, (10) use appropriate emoticons (emotional icons) to help convey meaning, and (11) use appropriate intensifiers to help convey meaning [do not use ALL CAPS or multiple exclamation marks (!!!)].

Academic Honesty

Academic honesty in the advancement of knowledge requires that all students and instructors respect one another's work's integrity and recognize the importance of acknowledging and safeguarding intellectual property.

There are many different forms of academic dishonesty. The following kinds of honesty violations and their definitions are not meant to be exhaustive. Instead, they are intended to serve as examples of unacceptable academic conduct.

- Plagiarism is taking and presenting as one's own the writings or ideas of others without citing the source. You should understand the concept of plagiarism and keep it in mind when taking exams and preparing written materials. If you do not know how to "cite a source" correctly, you must ask for help.
- Cheating is defined as fraud, deceit, or dishonesty in an academic assignment, or using or attempting to use materials, or assisting others in using materials that are prohibited or inappropriate in the context of the academic assignment in question.
- AI Use IVC values critical thinking and communication skills and considers academic integrity essential to learning. Using AI tools as a replacement for your own thinking, writing, or quantitative reasoning goes against our mission and academic honesty policy and will be considered academic dishonesty or plagiarism unless you have been instructed to do so by your instructor. In case of any uncertainty regarding the ethical use of AI tools, students are encouraged to contact their instructors for clarification.

Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment, and the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct. Acts of cheating include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) plagiarism; (b) copying or attempting to copy from others during an examination or on an assignment; (c) communicating test information with another person during an examination; (d) allowing others to do an assignment or portion of an assignment; (e) using a commercial term paper service.
