Course Description

This course offers an introduction to Chicana/o studies as an academic discipline. It focuses on its origins, development, and theories that contribute to its formation. Furthermore, it analyzes and evaluates Chicana/o perspectives on revisionist history; demographics; employment; political and socioeconomic trends; education; and the arts. This course will also examine, compare and contrast, such topics as cultural values, social organization, urbanization patterns of the Chicana/o in the U.S., migration, identity and gender roles, and their struggles in education, politics, and legislation. Due to the nature of the subject, students will be exposed to some Spanish phrases, words, and expressions. (Formerly HUM/SPAN 262) (CSU/UC) (Formerly HUM/SPAN 262) (CSU/UC)

Course Prerequisite(s) and/or Corequisite(s)

N/A

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon course completion, the student will have acquired new skills, knowledge, and or attitudes as evidenced by their ability to:

1. Research, analyze, and identify cultural values and contributions of Mexican Americans to the United States through writing.
2. Research the contributions of Chicanos in the United States.
3. Analyze a literary and/or cultural text written by a Chicano author.

Course Objectives

By the end of the course, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of Chicano role in United States history from an interdisciplinary perspective.
2. Explain the Chicano Movement, its goals and evolution, with emphasis on traditions, values, and customs.
3. Critically analyze Chicano migration and immigration in the Western Hemisphere.
4. Analyze and articulate concepts that are foundational to the field of ethnic studies, including but not limited to, race, racism, racialization, anti-racism, ethnicity and culture, settler colonialism, decolonization, equity, imperialism, power, liberation, sovereignty, self-determination, Eurocentrism, insurgent knowledges, and white supremacy.
5. Critically analyze how race and racism intersect with ethnicity, class, gender, sexuality, religion, spirituality, national origin, immigration status, tribal citizenship, sovereignty, language and/or age to shape life chances and social relationships in Chicano/Latinx communities.
6. Describe how struggle, social justice, solidarity, and liberation are experienced by communities of color are relevant to current issues.
7. Apply theory to describe critical events in the histories, cultures, and intellectual traditions of communities of color, with a particular emphasis on agency and self-affirmation.
8. Describe the intersection of race and ethnicity with other forms of difference affected by hierarchy and oppression, such as class, gender, sexuality, religion, spirituality, national origin, immigration status, ability, and/or age.
9. Describe how resistance, social justice, and liberation as experienced by communities of color are relevant to current issues (communal, national, and international).
10. Demonstrate active engagement with issues of race and ethnicity to build diverse, just, and equitable communities beyond the classroom.

Textbooks & Other Resources or Links

The required text for the course is an Open Educational Resource (OER), so you do not have to spend money to purchase the book.

Avendaño, Fausto, R. Bacalski-Martínez, David Ballesteros, et al., The Chicanos: As We See Ourselves (University of Arizona Press: Tucson, 1979).

Please see the Canvas course information module to access the link to the full OER.

Communication and Office Hours

My office hours are Monday and Wednesday between 1:00 - 2:40 pm and Thursday between 5:20 pm - 6:20 pm in Office 203D. I am also available by appointment via Pronto. If you need to contact me via email, please use your Canvas inbox rather than your campus or personal email. I will respond to Canvas emails within 24 hours (usually much sooner). I encourage you to contact me with questions throughout the semester.

In addition, I will post comments on all graded assignments, so please check Canvas frequently for comments on assignments to improve your grade. You are responsible for reading comments and applying those improvements to your next assignment.

Course Requirements and Instructional Methods

INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS: Students earn grades by completing learning activities, writing assignments, quizzes, and Discussion Boards. In addition, students will complete weekly reading assignments and bring questions to class to participate in instructions to achieve learning objectives and excel in the course.

COLLABORATIVE LEARNING ACTIVITIES: Students will engage each other to complete group activities designed to develop critical analytical skills further. Because research shows how experiences in social, contextual, and student-owned projects lead to deeper learning, all students will engage each other in collaborative learning that is fun and meaningful.

QUIZZES: Students will complete ten quizzes throughout the course to help them learn course content and ensure they keep up with required reading assignments. Quizzes include multiple choice, fill-in-the-blanks, true/false, short answers, and/or essay questions.

DOCUMENTARY REVIEWS: Documentaries inform viewers of historical events, figures, and tropes related to our learning objectives. A documentary review is a means for the viewer to voice and express cultural, political, and social issues to influence others on how they interpret information and understand and interact with their surrounding environment. Students will complete four reviews in class for the first part of the course.

DISCUSSION BOARD: To facilitate course discussions, students must participate and complete Discussion Board assignments on reading assignments and learning activities. Students will first respond to a prompt and then to two classmate responses.

NEWSLETTER ASSIGNMENT: Students will use IVC's Library Databases to research Chicana/o contributions to the United States. Once students select a topic, they are required to use four researched sources to complete a Newsletter template on their subject.

LITERARY/CULTURAL TEXT ANALYSIS: Students will write one review/analysis on a text written by a Chicana/o author. Students will select from the required course text, The Chicanos: As We See Ourselves.

RESEARCH FINDINGS: AN ARTFUL REPRESENTATION: Students will complete research that identifies and analyzes Mexican American cultural values and contributions to the United States. Students will build upon knowledge gained through the curriculum using academic sources and original thought to produce an artful representation of their research findings.

Course Grading Based on Course Objectives

The following percentages from completed assignments determine the final grade:

- Quizzes 15%

- Documentary Film Reviews 15%
- Discussion Board 10%
- Newsletter Assignment 20%
- Literary/Cultural Text Analysis 15%
- Research Paper Assignment 25%

Grading Scale:

- A (90 – 100%)
- B (80 – 89%)
- C (70 – 79%)
- D (60 – 69%)
- F (50 – or lower)

Communication Policy (Canvas and Pronto)

Students can reach me through our Canvas email system or Pronto messaging if they need to contact me. Please do not use a private or IVC student email for communication. I will respond within 24 hours or less, excluding weekends. If a student has not received a reply within that timeframe, please resend the original message and notify me of your attempt.

If a student sends me a Canvas email or Pronto message on a Friday, I will reply on Monday. Additionally, if a student contacts me about an assignment the day before or on the due date, I will respond after the due date. Therefore, it's crucial to communicate with me earlier in the week to ensure timely assistance.

Please understand that our curriculum is rigorous and demanding. Therefore, timely communication will help students complete their assignments. I will provide students with ample feedback to support a stellar grade.

When students Canvas email me (or any IVC professor), it is essential to use proper punctuation, capitalization, spelling, and grammar. In addition, always begin an email with an appropriate salutation (i.e., Dear Dr. Chávez). Professional email etiquette is seldom taught in college, so I understand how sending the first email is stressful. Please read this article for tips to help you write a relevant email and get answers (Quiz 1 will test whether you read the article).

Students are required to regularly check Canvas for weekly announcements, updates, reminders, or changes. Additionally, since grades are posted as they are scored on Canvas, all students will have direct access to their grade book.

Attendance and Drop/Participation Policy

Students will be dropped from the course as a "No Show" if they do not log into the course or complete the required first-week assignments. Please complete the Course Syllabus Quiz 1 and Discussion Board Activity to avoid being dropped.

After completing the first-week assignments, students will participate in weekly Discussion Board Activities, Canvas Quizzes, and additional assignments designed to assess their understanding and processing of course material. Therefore, students are required to check Canvas daily to stay up-to-date and ensure they don't miss any important tasks or information.

If students are dropped from the course as a "No Show" and requests to rejoin, they will be subject to the same rules and expectations as any other student starting the course. This means they must catch up on any missed work and adhere to all course policies from the moment they are re-enrolled. It is the student's responsibility to either drop the course or officially withdraw. See IVC's General Catalog for details.

All students are required to attend in-person or Canvas class meetings regularly. If a student is absent due to a college event or a medical issue, they are required to provide me with pertinent documents related to their absence.

Read Carefully: Students will be dropped from the course due to excessive absences if they do not access Canvas for two consecutive weeks or fail to complete the required first-week assignments. For online and in-person classes, consistent participation is crucial: students who fail to complete required activities for three consecutive assignments will be dropped from the course due to excessive absences. This policy helps students stay engaged and meet the course's academic expectations.

Attendance Elaborated: A student who fails to attend the first meeting of a class or does not complete the first mandatory activity of an online class will be dropped by the instructor as of the first official meeting of that class. Should readmission be desired, the student's status will be the same as that of any other student who desires to add a class. It is the student's responsibility to drop or officially withdraw from the class. See General Catalog for details.

My attendance policy aligns with our California Code of Regulations, Title 5.

Title 5 section 55002.a.2.A states that "attendance is not part of a course subject matter or a discipline specific skill and therefore may not be separately assessed as a part of the course curriculum." However, Title 5 section 55002.a.2.B. states, "The course grants units of credit based upon a relationship specified by the governing board between the number of units assigned to the course and the number of lecture and/or laboratory hours or performance criteria specified in the course outline."

Therefore, since college credit units are calculated based on the number of hours students spend in class (3 hours), "students who miss an excessive amount of class time cannot be said to have fulfilled the course requirements and may be dropped from the course." Suppose a student misses online or in-person weekly activities without a valid reason, and their absences exceed the required limit, the instructor may drop them from the course. Overall, students enrolled in a face-to-face course will be dropped after their third unexcused absence; students enrolled in an online course will be dropped if they have three missing or incomplete assignments.

As part of my responsibilities, I keep track of weekly attendance. Should a student miss a face-to-face class without a valid excuse, they will not receive credit for the scheduled class assignments. The student must contact me to discuss if make-up options are available in such cases. Students who arrive late or leave class early will be marked as half an absence and will not receive credit for any scheduled class assignments. If a student is excused from class due to disruptive behavior, they will be marked absent and receive no credit for class assignments.

IMPERIAL VALLEY COLLEGE

Class participation and engagement are required, so all students are expected to be prepared for each class meeting or online module and to participate in all activities; therefore, student attention during weekly class time is necessary and critical.

Absences attributed to the representation of the college at officially approved events (conferences, contests, and field trips) will be counted as 'excused' absences.

Late Assignment Policy

Students will always have access to our course modules and assignments, so please ensure that assignments are submitted on time. All due dates are posted on our course syllabus and Canvas, so students must check Canvas daily. If any circumstances affect your performance, please let me know in advance so I can make the necessary accommodations. Assignments will only be accepted on time.

Netiquette or Online Etiquette and In-Class Behavior Policy

Netiquette, short for internet etiquette, encompasses proper manners, behaviors, and decorum in the digital realm. It consists of rules for appropriate online conduct that students must adhere to. Please be mindful of the following: avoid sarcasm and use proper language; respect others' opinions and privacy; acknowledge and return messages promptly; do not use ALL CAPS or multiple exclamation marks to communicate with your classmates; most importantly, respect your instructor's attention and instructions to assist you in successfully completing the course.

According to IVC policies, all students must respect their classmates and instructors when communicating. If you need assistance, please get in touch with me. I am here to support you. Violation of this policy will be reported to the Campus Disciplinary Officer for disciplinary action.

Plagiarism (Academic Integrity) Policy

Academic honesty in advancing knowledge requires that all students and instructors respect one another's work's integrity and recognize the importance of acknowledging and safeguarding intellectual property.

There are many different forms of academic dishonesty. The following kinds of honesty violations and their definitions are not meant to be exhaustive. Instead, they are intended to serve as examples of unacceptable academic conduct.

- Plagiarism is taking and presenting as one's own the writings or ideas of others without citing the source. You should understand the concept of plagiarism and keep it in mind when taking exams and preparing written materials. If you do not know how to "cite a source" correctly, you must ask for help.
- Cheating is defined as fraud, deceit, or dishonesty in an academic assignment, using or attempting to use materials, or assisting others in using materials that are prohibited or inappropriate in the context of the academic assignment in question.
- AI Use IVC values critical thinking and communication skills and considers academic integrity essential to learning. Using AI tools as a replacement for your own thinking, writing, or quantitative reasoning goes against our mission and academic honesty policy and will be considered academic dishonesty or plagiarism unless you have been instructed to do so by your instructor. In case of any uncertainty regarding the ethical use of AI tools, students are encouraged to contact their instructors for clarification.

Anyone cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment. The instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct. Acts of cheating include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) plagiarism; (b) copying or attempting to copy from others during an examination or on an assignment; (c) communicating test information with another person during an examination; (d) allowing others to do an assignment or portion of an assignment; (e) using a commercial term paper service.

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Policy

IVC emphasizes critical thinking, effective communication, and academic integrity as crucial elements of the learning process. It is essential to understand that relying on AI tools to substitute your thinking, writing, or quantitative reasoning does not align with IVC's mission. IVC's academic honesty policy. Any attempts to submit assignments using AI will be considered academic dishonesty or plagiarism. If you have any uncertainties regarding the ethical use of AI tools, please seek clarification.

AI tools, such as Grammarly or ChatGPT, are strictly prohibited. These tools are not allowed and undermine the integrity of the work. Using unauthorized AI tools in coursework violates IVC's Artificial Intelligence (AI) Policy. This policy prohibits the use of AI to complete assignments, exams, or any other academic work unless explicitly allowed by the instructor. Violating this policy can lead to academic penalties, including potential disciplinary action.

Every submission that requires students to write will undergo review by our Turnitin program for AI detection. If your submission is identified through AI detection, it will receive a grade of 0 with no opportunity for resubmission.

Turnitin and Similarity Scores

Our Canvas Turnitin program will review every student submission. If a submission receives a similarity score of 25% or higher, it will automatically be given a score of 0. This policy emphasizes the importance of submitting original work and avoiding plagiarism.

All in All: Cheating, Plagiarism, and Artificial Intelligence (AI)

Anyone cheating, plagiarizing, or using AI will receive a zero on the assignment. In addition, the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated cheating may result in an F in the course and disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct.
