Course Description

Emphasizes critical thinking in reading and writing beyond that achieved in ENGL 110 or ENGL 101. Written argumentation will focus on deduction and induction, an understanding of the fallacies of language and thought, the application of valid evidence, and refutation. (CSU, UC)

Course Prerequisite(s) and/or Corequisite(s)

ENGL 105, 110 or ESL 108 with a grade of "C" or better

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon course completion, the successful student will have acquired new skills, knowledge, and or attitudes as demonstrated by being able to:

- Interpret appropriately and analyze a written argument for claim, evidence, reasoning, fallacies, and overall effectiveness. (ILO1, ILO2)
- Develop an effective written argument containing a factual claim, providing valid and appropriate evidence, utilizing appropriate reasoning strategies, and avoiding fallacies. (ILO1, ILO2, ILO3)
- Demonstrate command of rules regarding plagiarism and academic ethics. (ILO3)

Course Objectives

Upon satisfactory completion of the course, students will be able to:

1. Student will identify the structure of arguments, including the assertions/claims and the proof/support.
2. Student will analyze arguments critically, evaluating multiple arguments for validity and soundness, distinguishing fact from judgment and knowledge from opinion, and differentiating relevant from irrelevant support.
3. Student will analyze and construct both deductive and inductive arguments.
4. Student will write argumentative prose that defines, that analyzes casual relationships, that advocates solutions, that evaluates judgments, and that refutes other arguments.
5. Student will identify formal and informal fallacies in language and thought.
6. Student will recognize and apply the effects of denotation and connotation; emotive language; and various figures of speech, especially metaphor, within argumentative prose.

7. Student will revise written drafts and edit appropriately for an academic audience, observing conventions of coherence, unity, purpose, grammar, mechanics, and documentation.
8. Students will write essays and research papers, mostly argumentative and analytical, composing a total of at least 6,000 words of formal writing.

Course Requirements and Instructional Methods

Because of their highly condensed nature, summer and winter classes require much more concentrated time to complete assignments by their due dates than full semester classes would. Be prepared to work daily and adjust your personal schedules to allow the time needed for this class.

Since this is an asynchronous online class, lectures that would ordinarily be covered by the professor in a physical classroom have been added to the modules. Students need to be organized and cover all of the required material independently.

The materials are presented as written text, audio lectures, and some videos. Readings from the textbook are integrated into the discussion boards, portfolios and essays.

Because this is an online writing class, students need to be familiar with how to format their essays using their own word processing program. This includes such things as setting headers, double-spacing text, saving and downloading documents, and so on.

Course Grading Based on Course Objectives

Classwork, Homework and Late Work:

- ❖ Essays and final exam (averaged) 75%
- ❖ Discussion boards (Averaged. Must include peer-editing replies) 10%
- ❖ Reading portfolio submissions (averaged) 15%

This class is using the AI scanner adopted by IVC. If your papers or board posts are flagged as AI, you may receive a 0.

- I may refuse to accept late work. Homework due dates are listed in the class outline.
- If I do accept your late work, it will lose points (up to 5%.) Make-up work needs to be done in a timely manner. Make-up work is still considered late.
- Assignments for this class have both due dates (when the assignment is due) and “until” dates (when the link closes down, even for late work). I usually do not open up closed assignments, except for unusual circumstances (for example, an extended Canvas outage.) It is YOUR responsibility to submit your work in a timely manner. I strongly discourage trying to submit work on the last day it would be accepted or at the last minute. If Canvas goes down or if the Internet goes out, you could be out of luck. Good time management includes planning ahead for eventualities.
- I cannot take assignments via e-mail. Assignments need to be connected to the course grading program, gradebook, plagiarism scanner, AI scanner and paper cache. E-mail won't do any of those things. That is why all assignments need to be submitted into Canvas, which is an integrated course management system. I can't do anything with e-mailed submissions.

- Discussion boards need to be your own original work. Do not do research for these. Stay out of the Internet. Use your own critical thinking.
- I may add, change or eliminate assignments in the portfolio in order to better serve the needs of the class. Changes may be made without advance notice. Be careful not to miss any assignments. Late work loses points, and no late work will be accepted during finals week, except under special circumstances

The following is meant to help clarify what the scores mean. However, papers are evaluated on overall quality, including:

- Development of points
- Focus and coherency
- Effective use of examples
- Proper use of research materials including MLA formatting
- Understanding of and application of the structure for the assigned argument model
- Effectiveness of the rebuttal or refutation
- Understanding of and appropriate use of logos, pathos and connotation (emotive language)
- Avoidance of logical fallacies
- Analysis of causal relationships
- Understanding of and appropriate use of assigned reading materials
- Appropriate use of inductive and/or deductive reasoning
- Presentation of appropriate thesis and internal claim points
- Demonstration of college-level grammar, punctuation and language usage

Any paper that shows shaky basic writing skills will receive a low score, so edit grammar and punctuation carefully. This includes discussion boards as well.

Some assignments are scored as "complete" or "incomplete." "Complete" means acceptable. "Incomplete" means not acceptable. An assignment might be marked as "incomplete" if it has a large amount of AI material, what is presented has minimal information, or parts are missing. It could also mean that the entire assignment is missing. If you receive an "incomplete," you get 0 points. In other words, those kinds of assignments are either satisfactory or they are not. Other assignments are scored using a traditional percentage scale:

Scoring Rubric:

100%-98% ("A+") Excellent

This paper demonstrates advanced skills. You rock!

97%-90% ("A") Very good

This paper demonstrates solid writing skills. Very good.

89%-80% ("B") Commendable

This paper successfully meets the above criteria but may have a few mechanical errors or minor problems. It might be a little weak in critical thinking. Use of college-level vocabulary may need improving. This paper is pretty good.

79%-70% ("C") Acceptable

This paper shows a general competency in the above criteria but still has some noticeable problems. Basic grammar and punctuation skills are okay but still show occasional errors. The paper might be a little short or the points may be slightly underdeveloped. The thesis statement or conclusion might be a little weak. Examples or evidence may be minimal or superficial. The paper is unimpressive but functional.

69%-60% (“D”) Not acceptable : Below minimum standards

This paper does not show competency in most of the above criteria. There are far too many errors or problems. The paper may be too short. Command of mechanics may be very shaky. Editing may be minimal or non-existent. Student may not understand the subject, the assignment, or the readings. The paper might not follow proper MLA protocol.

59%-1% (“F”) Very poor

This paper has significant or pervasive problems. The writing skills demonstrated may not be sufficient for this advanced class. The student might not have understood the assignment or the material. Instructions for the paper might not have been properly followed. Research may be minimal or lazy. The paper may be using unacceptable or poor-quality sources.

0% - (“F”) Missing or not accepted for scoring

This paper was never submitted, or it was not accepted for scoring. It might be incomplete or submitted too late. The paper might be showing signs of plagiarism or AI use. Papers need to be submitted into Canvas before they will be scored. This also applies to actual “Incomplete” scores.

Academic Honesty (Artificial Intelligence -AI)

Academic Honesty (Artificial Intelligence -AI) IVC values critical thinking and communication skills and considers academic integrity essential to learning. Using AI tools as a replacement for your own thinking, writing, or quantitative reasoning goes against both our mission and academic honesty policy and will be considered academic dishonesty or plagiarism, unless you have been instructed to use it by your instructor. In case of any uncertainty regarding the ethical use of AI tools, students are encouraged to reach out to their instructors for clarification.

When submitting an assignment in Canvas, a plagiarism and AI report viewable by your instructor will be generated. Papers that show signs of plagiarism or AI use or are missing citations or works cited pages when required will receive a 0. Any information you read from a source needs to be cited in the body of the paper and on the works cited page. If you do not cite the material you are using, that is plagiarism. It doesn't matter if it is a direct quotation or a paraphrase of the information. Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment, and the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file.

Acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action. Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct. Acts of cheating include, but are not limited to the following: (a) plagiarism; (b) copying or attempting to copy from others during an examination or on an assignment; (c) communicating test information with another person during an examination; (d) allowing others to do an assignment or portion of an assignment; (e) using a commercial term paper service; (f) using AI generated content. This includes material from ChatGPT, Google Translate, Grammarly or any other such sites.

If your paper is flagged as being heavily AI generated, you may be asked to produce a writing sample live online. Your grammar, spelling, vocabulary, punctuation, syntax and subject knowledge should be very similar to what is on the paper you submitted.

Discussion boards need to be your own original work. Do not do research for these. Stay out of the Internet. Use your own critical thinking

Netiquette

What is netiquette? Netiquette is internet manners, online etiquette, and digital etiquette all rolled into one word. Basically, netiquette is a set of rules for behaving properly online. You may disagree with another student but do so politely and respectfully. Do not use vulgar language or inappropriate references.

Accessibility Statement

Imperial Valley College is committed to providing an accessible learning experience for all students, regardless of course modality. Every effort has been made to ensure that this course complies with all state and federal accessibility regulations, including Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations. However, if you encounter any content that is not accessible, please contact your instructor or the area dean for assistance. If you have specific accommodations through DSPS, contact them for additional assistance.

We are here to support you and ensure that you have equal access to all course materials.

Course Policies

Attendance

- Initial attendance for this class is taken from the first day assignment submission, which needs to be turned in within 12 hours of the start of the semester. If it is not submitted, you will be dropped as a “no show” and your place given to a crasher. The first day submission is how I take roll, and it establishes your active participation in the class.
- If you choose to stop participating in the class, it is your responsibility to drop yourself officially before the final drop date of the semester. If you stop participating in class and do not drop, you may receive an “F” in the class. If you are not actively participating in the class for more than a week, I might drop you for inactivity. Participation is the same thing as "attending" class online.
- For this online class, “attendance” means participating in weekly activities, such as discussion boards or assignment submissions.

Netiquette

Netiquette is internet manners, online etiquette, and digital etiquette all rolled into one word. Basically, netiquette is how we behave properly online. You can disagree with someone in the discussion board or chat room but do so politely and respectfully. Do not use vulgar language or other inappropriate terms.

Anticipated Class Schedule/Calendar

English 201 Class Outline

Winter 2025

rev. 10-15-24

I may add, change, or eliminate topics, due dates and assignments without further notice in order to better serve the needs of the class.

Since this is a summer or winter class on a highly condensed calendar, it is essential that you finish all work, including background lectures in the week they are assigned.

Any lectures in Modules 1-5 are fair game for the final exam. Study the background lectures as you go. There will not be time for a lot of cramming right before the test and there is a lot of material to cover!

Module 0: Jan. 2 --Class Information and Resources

Read all of this info about our class and submit the first day assignment on the first day of class.

Module 1: Jan 2-4--Essential Topics

Study these background materials on rhetoric. Yes, there will be a test.

Module 2: Jan. 5-11

Discussion board 1 and portfolio entry 1 are due Jan. 11.

Study the rhetoric and writing background lectures in Modules 1 and 2 well before starting paper #1. This essay is an argumentative/evaluative paper. You will need this background in order to do the paper properly.

Module 3: Jan. 12-18

Paper #1 rough draft is due Jan. 16.

Discussion board 2 and portfolio entry 2 are due Jan. 18.

Study the background lectures on critical thinking and evaluating sources in this module.

Module 4: Jan. 19-25

Completed paper #1 is due Jan. 21.

Discussion board 3 and portfolio entry 3 are due Jan. 25.

Module 5: Jan. 26- Feb. 3

Completed paper #2 is due Jan. 26. It is a Toulmin argumentative essay.

Discussion board 4 is due Feb. 1.

The final exam (Terminology quiz) is due Feb. 2.

Completed paper #3 is due Feb. 1. It is a process analysis/ problem-solution paper. Don't forget the works cited page. Study research materials in this module.

Have a nice break!
