Course Description

An examination of the underlying theoretical principles of developmentally appropriate practices applied to programs, and environments, emphasizing the key role of relationships, constructive adult-child interactions, and teaching strategies in supporting physical, social, creative, and intellectual development for all children. This course includes a review of the historical roots of early childhood programs and the evolution of professional practices promoting advocacy, ethics, and professional identity. (C-ID ECE 120) (CSU)

Course Prerequisite(s) and/or Corequisite(s)

None required

Student Learning Outcomes

Upon course completion, the successful student will have acquired new skills, knowledge, and or attitudes as demonstrated by being able to:

1. Compare and contrast historical and current early childhood education settings, issues and perspectives.
2. Explain how foundational knowledge of child development and learning theories inform environments, pedagogy, and interactions in early care and education settings.
3. Identify the roles, requirements, and responsibilities of early childhood teachers as professional educators.

Course Objectives

Upon satisfactory completion of the course, students will be able to:

- Describe the historical and current issues and approaches for early childhood education.
- Differentiate between program types, delivery systems, teacher requirements, and licensing and regulation structures in relation to ages served.
- Identify and compare the developmental stages and needs of children, birth through age eight.
- Describe developmentally, culturally and linguistically appropriate practice and the value of play.
- Explain how effective home-school relationships and interactions support children's developmental learning.
- Explain the ongoing curriculum cycle of observation, planning, implementation, and assessment.
- Compare and contrast principles of positive guidance and interactions identifying strategies for different ages.

- Connect theories of learning and development to early childhood environment design, curriculum, and teaching strategies.
- Identify support for first and dual language learners in developing English language and literacy skills for children born through age eight including support for the home language.
- Identify the role of an early childhood educator including intentional teaching, ethics, personal philosophy, and professionalism.

Measurable Course Objectives and Minimum Standards for grade of "C".

Course Requirements and Instructional Methods

Grading Policy

Grades will be based upon class participation, attendance and the completion of assignments, quizzes and tests throughout the semester. All material presented in the text, study guide, videos and handouts will be part of the evaluation process. All assignments should be typed or written legibly in black ink.

No assignments, notes, tests or projects will be accepted late. If you do turn in assignments late, you will receive 5% off for each day your assignment is late. If you feel that you have extenuating circumstances, please see me in person before the project is due. If you have permission to turn the project in late, you will not earn higher than a letter grade of 'C' for your effort.

Every student has the same chance to prepare for the midterm and final. If you miss a test or assignment, and have extra time to study, it is unfair to those students who took the time to complete the assignment. To make up a test, or assignment you must show proof for the absence (doctor's note, hospitalization paperwork) and it must be approved by the instructor. Regardless of the reason for a missed test, it must be made up within a week of when your class took the test or quiz. Make-ups are at my office during office hours. Make up tests will be deducted 50% of the total grade. Please make sure you are here when the tests are scheduled. If you are not here for a scheduled test, you will receive no points for the test. A missed assignment or test is considered an "F" and no points will be given. Plan a schedule to allow for ample study time so you will be prepared. There is no penalty for taking a quiz or test before the scheduled time.

All assignments have a rubric by which the student can view what is required to receive the highest grade on that assignment. "When grades are given for any course of instruction taught in a community college district, the grade given to each student shall be the grade determined by the faculty member of the course, and the determination of the student's grade by the instructor, in the absence of mistake, fraud, bad faith or incompetency, shall be final." California

Education Code, Section 76224(a). Everyone in each class can earn an “A” grade. No set number or percentage limits how many A’s can be earned in each class.

Out-of-Class Assignments: The Department of Education policy states that one (1) credit hour is the amount of student work that reasonably approximates not less than one hour of class time and two (2) hours of out-of-class time per week over a semester.

Basic Description of Assessments

IVC Child Center Lab: Generally, this course requires students to spend 2 hours of volunteer time observing an early childhood classroom at the IVC Child Development Center. You may visit for 2 hours together, or on separate occasions.

- The state of California requires that students receive vaccinations for specified illnesses including Pertussis, Mumps, Measles, and Influenza.
- A negative result of a recent TB test must also be presented before any Lab hours can begin (your instructor will provide you with further direction regarding where you may go for vaccinations and TB testing)
- You can opt out for the flu shot

1. First demonstrate proof of completed vaccination packet by the IVC school nurse by getting a signature of approval.
2. Visit the center to complete observation hours.
3. Submit a Reflection paper with a series of reflection questions regarding the visit to the IVC Child Development Center.

Assignments: Requires students to read text material and articles provided or that are accessible on the internet, reflect on-topic questions, and write thoughtful responses. The instructor will provide detailed directions.

Discussions: Students will respond to prompts presented by the instructor related to class topic areas. Students are required to respond to responses posted by fellow students. Class notes: Take class notes throughout the week, on both days. Include a header with your name, Chapter title and the date.

Education Plan: Students must meet with an IVC guidance counselor (via Zoom or in person) to create an education plan designed for a Child Development major. A copy of the plan must be submitted to Canvas.

Quizzes/Tests: There will be a Chapter Quiz for each of the chapters in the textbook. All quizzes will be completed online on CANVAS.

Participation: This course incorporates in-class collaboration activities. You get 2 points for being on time. If you arrive 10 minutes late, or leave 10 minutes too early, you will lose -1 point for attendance. You may contact the instructor if you are not able to participate in class. You will still lose points for arriving late (-1 point), leaving early (-1 point) or being absent (-2 points).

Philosophy Statement and Theory Application of Early Childhood Education

Requires students to formulate their philosophy of education. Areas to be addressed include best practices, delivery systems, quality in programs, the value of play as a vehicle for learning, theories of how children learn, diversity of families, the building of relationships, curriculum planning, and observation. Students are to submit the assignment in written form, utilizing professional sources to support APA style in citing references. The instructor will provide additional specific directions.

Course Grading Based on Course Objectives

Academic Honesty (Artificial Intelligence -AI)

IVC values critical thinking and communication skills and considers academic integrity essential to learning. Using AI tools as a replacement for your own thinking, writing, or quantitative reasoning goes against both our mission and academic honesty policy and will be considered academic dishonesty, or plagiarism unless you have been instructed to do so by your instructor. In case of any uncertainty regarding the ethical use of AI tools, students are encouraged to reach out to their instructors for clarification.

Accessibility Statement

Imperial Valley College is committed to providing an accessible learning experience for all students, regardless of course modality. Every effort has been made to ensure that this course complies with all state and federal accessibility regulations, including Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and Title 5 of the California Code of Regulations. However, if you encounter any content that is not accessible, please contact your instructor or the area dean for assistance. If you have specific accommodations through DSPPS, contact them for additional assistance.

We are here to support you and ensure that you have equal access to all course materials.

Course Policies

Attendance: A student who fails to attend the first meeting of a class or does not complete the first mandatory activity will be dropped by the instructor as of the first official meeting of that class. Should readmission be desired, the student's status will be the same as that of any other student who desires to add a class. It is the student's responsibility to drop or officially withdraw from the class. See General Catalog for details.

- Regular attendance in all classes is expected of all students. 2 points a day are given to students for being in class. If you arrive late, or leave early, you lose -1 point. A grace period of 10 minutes after class and before class is allowed. A student whose continuous, unexcused absences exceed the number of hours the class is scheduled to meet per week may be dropped. Students who fail to complete required activities for two consecutive weeks may be considered to have excessive absences and may be dropped.
- Absences attributed to the representation of the college at officially approved events (conferences, contests, and field trips) will be counted as 'excused' absences.

Academic Honesty: Academic honesty in the advancement of knowledge requires that all students and instructors respect the integrity of one another's work and recognize the importance of acknowledging and safeguarding intellectual property. There are many different forms of academic dishonesty. The following kinds of honesty violations and their definitions are not meant to be exhaustive. Rather, they are intended to serve as examples of unacceptable academic conduct.

- Plagiarism is taking and presenting as one's own the writings or ideas of others, without citing the source. You should understand the concept of plagiarism and keep it in mind when taking exams and preparing written materials. If you do not understand how to "cite a source" correctly, you must ask for help.
- Cheating is defined as fraud, deceit, or dishonesty in an academic assignment, or using or attempting to use materials, or assisting others in using materials that are prohibited or inappropriate in the context of the academic assignment in question.
 - Anyone caught cheating or plagiarizing will receive a zero (0) on the exam or assignment, and the instructor may report the incident to the Campus Disciplinary Officer, who may place related documentation in a file. Repeated acts of cheating may result in an F in the course and/or disciplinary action.

Please refer to the General Catalog for more information on academic dishonesty or other misconduct. Acts of cheating include, but are not limited to, the following: (a) plagiarism; (b) copying or attempting to copy from others during an examination or on an assignment; (c) communicating test information with another person during an examination; (d) allowing others to do an assignment or portion of an assignment; (e) using a commercial term paper service.

Netiquette

Classroom

- Electronic Devices: Cell phones and electronic devices must be turned off and put away during class, unless otherwise directed by the instructor. Please step outside to text or call. A warning is first given, and then -1 points for attendance is taken off the second time.
- Food and Drink are prohibited in all classrooms. Water bottles with lids/caps are the only exception. Additional restrictions will apply in labs. Please comply as directed by the instructor.

- Disruptive Students: Students who disrupt or interfere with a class may be sent out of the room and told to meet with the Campus Disciplinary Officer before returning to continue with coursework. Disciplinary procedures will be followed as outlined in the General Catalog.
- Children in the classroom: Due to college rules and state laws, only students enrolled in the class may attend; children are not allowed.

Online

Online netiquette is internet manners, online etiquette, and digital etiquette all rolled into one word. Basically, netiquette is a set of rules for behaving properly online.

- Students are to comply with the following rules of netiquette: (1) identify yourself, (2) include a subject line, (3) avoid sarcasm, (4) respect others' opinions and privacy, (5) acknowledge and return messages promptly, (6) copy with caution, (7) do not spam or junk mail, (8) be concise, (9) use appropriate language, (10) use appropriate emoticons (emotional icons) to help convey meaning, and (11) use appropriate intensifiers to help convey meaning [do not use ALL CAPS or multiple exclamation marks (!!!!)].

Financial Aid

Your Grades Matter! To continue to receive financial aid, you must meet the Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) requirement. Making SAP means that you maintain a 2.0 GPA, have successfully completed 67% of your coursework, and will graduate on time. If you do not maintain SAP, you may lose your financial aid. If you have questions, please get in touch with financial aid at finaid@imperial.edu.
